Garner is Not Candidate--Rayburn

HOOVER SEEKS POWER TO CUT U. S. EXPENSES

REORGANIZATION OF GOVERNMENT IS CONTEMPLATED

Washington, Feb. 24. (AP)—President Hoover today struck at congressional opposition to his suggestions that he be given authority to reorganize the federal government with an eye to reduced expenditures.

In a carefully worded statement, the president declared himself "delighted" that congress had decided to move toward government consolidation. Simultaneously, however, he charged that congress had failed repeatedly over the last 25 years to fulfill efforts to this end and asked that power to act be centered in one man.

Mr. Hoover's reference to congressional action concerned a move consummated late yesterday in the house. By an overwhelming majority it adopted a resolution creating a special economy committee to investigate the possibilities of federal reorganization.

Speaker Garner formally appointed the committee today, naming Representative Byrns (D. Tenn.) chairman. The group summoned efficiency bureau representatives for a hearing tomorrow.

Truce Nears End.

A house expenditures subcommittee today approved a Democratic move to merge the war and navy departments. The full committee will probably vote on the proposal Saturday.

Meanwhile an administration measure to authorize President Hoover to revamp the federal set-up was introduced by Representative Williamson of South Dakota, ranking Republican on the expenditures committee.

The president's statement today was his first since it became apparent that the political truce which prevailed during the enactment of economic emergency legislation was definitely nearing an end. Speaker Garner on Sunday said the house Democratic majority would never agree to give the president unlimited authority to effect the contemplated reorganization.

Mr. Hoover today asked that he be empowered to bring about consolidations and other changes in the governmental machinery through the issuance of executive orders to lie before congress for 60 days before becoming effective.

The president made no direct reference either to the speaker's statement or to other attacks upon his suggestion delivered during debate on the resolution to create an economy committee.

"I am delighted that the congress is earnestly taking up the reorganization of the federal machinery," he said. "I will be entirely happy if my repeated messages to congress on the subject succeed in securing action in an effective fashion."

Faces Difficult Job.

Immediately after this statement, however, the president re-

Shouse Pleads for Democratic Victory

Miami, Fla., Feb. 24. (AP)—Characterizing the administration of President Hoover as wasteful and extravagant, Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic National Executive committee, broadcast by radio tonight a plea for a Democratic victory in the coming national election.

Shouse expressed belief that enough Democrats are now in congress to hold down what he termed Republican extravagance and to rectify what he termed failure of the administration to keep its political promises to voters of the nation during the past 3 years.

Campaign to Find Jobs for Jobless Gaining Impetus

New York, Feb. 24. (AP)—The 100,000 mark in the "war on depression" campaign for 1,000,000 jobs for unemployed Americans appeared near tonight.

Although the "holiday letdown" was blamed for the lowest daily total since the campaign began, the 3,655 new jobs reported during the 24 hours ended at noon sent the total since the beginning of the drive to 81,731.

The latest reports came from thirty-one states, with New York state accounting for 851 of the day's total. Minneapolis, with a total for the day of 481, however, kept the state of Minnesota in the lead among states with a total of 13,285. Wisconsin's total of 241 for the day kept that state in second place with 10,212.

DARROW MIGHT DEFEND YANKS

Noted Lawyer Asked to Take Charge of Honolulu Case

(Copyright 1932, By The Associated Press)

Honolulu, Feb. 24, (AP)—Negotiations have been entered into with Clarence Darrow, noted criminal lawyer, to defend Mrs. Granville Fortescue and three others against second degree murder charges March 10, it was learned today by the Associated Press.

The defendants are accused of shooting to death Joseph Kahahawai, one of five men charged with assaulting Mrs. Fortescue's daughter, the wife of Lieut. Thomas H. Massie of the United States navy. Massie and two enlisted men of the navy, E. J. Lord and Albert O. Jones, are the others charged with the slaying.

Darrow was in conference with Dudley Field Malone in New York yesterday, it was learned, and was learned, and was reported favorable to coming to Honolulu to take charge of the defense.

Delay Necessary

Further information was unobtainable here, but it was almost certain Darrow's coming to Honolulu would mean postponement of the trial set for March 10.

So far the prosecution has not been acquainted with the possibility of Darrow's connection, but it is believed certain the defense will ask for a delay in order to permit Darrow to familiarize himself with the case.

Another reaction to the appointment of a new attorney for the defense probably would be a retrial of the asserted assailants of Mrs. Massie in advance of the murder trial.

Persons favorable to Mrs. Fortescue and her co-defendants, have said they believe the conviction of the four men accused with Kahahawai of assaulting Mrs. Massie would mean a strong point toward acquittal of those charged with killing Kahahawai.

Power Rate Parley Not Satisfactory

Detroit, Feb. 24, (AP)—Following what he said was an unsatisfactory conference with the Detroit Edison Company on the matter of lower power rates, Mayor Frank Murphy announced today that the city would utilize the municipal power plant for at least a part of the current to run the street railways and the water works.

The city's business with the Detroit Edison Compasy amounts to about $1,200,000 a year, of which the street railways take $1,000,000 and the water works the remainder. Mayor Murphy conferred with Alex Dow, president of the Detroit Edison Company, yesterday regarding lower power rates and said he was informed that a reduction might be effected in October but that present conditions did not justify such a move.

State Police Win Brucker's Praise

Lansing, Mich., eb. 24, (AP)—Speaking before the Central and Southern Michigan Sheriffs' Association, Governor Wilber M. Brucker tonight praised the state police and decried what he termed "poison pen" criticism of the organization.

He demanded of every sheriff "sincere enforcement of the law," and advocated four year terms for them, instead of the present two.

Some of the sheriffs criticized the state police for interfering in local enforcement problems.

ASKS HOWARD TO WITHDRAW AS HIS PROXY

SPEAKER IS SILENT ON EFFORTS IN HIS BEHALF

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER
(Associated Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 24, (AP)—A flat statement that Speaker Garner is not a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination and would not file in any state primary was made today by Representative Sam Rayburn (D. Tex.) in the midst of another round of pre-convention happenings.

Rayburn, chosen leader of the Texan's advocates at a rally in San Antonio on Monday, telegraphed Judge G. H. Howard of Atlanta asking him to withdraw from the Georgia primary as a proxy for Garner. Howard filed Monday in the strong Roosevelt state, saying if he won he would throw the state's vote to Garner at Chicago.

"As a friend of John N. Garner and speaking for his host of friends," Rayburn's message to Howard said, "it is my earnest desire that you not enter the Georgia primary either as a proxy or in any other sense as a representative of Mr. Garner." In a separate statement Rayburn said:

"Speaker Garner is not a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, although sentiment in his favor is developing rapidly throughout the country.

"He not only has not entered his candidacy in any state primary, but he will not do so. Of course, under these circumstances he would not enter the primary in Georgia through a proxy."

Speaker Garner himself has remained silent on efforts in his behalf. It remains to be seen whether his supporters throughout the country will accept Rayburn's statement as final and thus shorten the field against Gov. Roosevelt, who had Georgia's delegation in his pocket until Howard came along.

Observers watching the fast-moving preparations for the national political conventions weighed the probable effect of Roosevelt's removal today of Sheriff Thomas M. Farley, Tammany leader, but came to no public conclusions.

One senator, Wheeler of Montana, a supporter of Roosevelt for the presidency, endorsed his action, but did not discuss its political aspects.

Roosevelt's move in the face of a probable division in New York's big block of 94 delegates to the nominating convention coincided with far-flung activities in behalf of other Democratic candidates and a statement at Concord by Senator Moses (R. N. H.) that President Hoover's chances of reelection were "infinitely stronger" as a result of his economic relief program.

At the same time, the president was given optimistic reports by Lieut. Gov. Hazlebaker of Montana and Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, national committeewoman from Massachusetts, and another by Robert Taft, of Cincinnati, that "there will be no fight in Ohio" against his renomination.

Assurances of a three-way contest for California's delegation of 44 to the Democratic convention were gives in an announcement at San Francisco by the Garner-for-President club that a slate of delegates pledged to Speaker Garner would be placed in the field at the primary May 3. Slates for Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith already had been indicated.

Gov. Murray of Oklahoma continued his speaking campaign in Indiana today and tonight and again notified his supporters back in Oklahoma City to file suit if necessary to get his name on the Georgia primary ballot. His filing notice was received in Savannah yesterday after the time for filing had expired.

Despondent Husband Kills Wife and Self

Denver, Feb. 24. (AP)—Despondent because of ill health, Alfred J. Pitts, former manager of the Detroit Better Business Bureau, today shot and fatally wounded his wife, Henrietta, and then killed himself. Mrs. Pitts was shot through the head as she slept. She died tonight without regaining consciousness.

Pitts came to Denver last summer. A brother, Tom Pitts, said the man had suffered a nervous breakdown about a year ago and had acted strangely ever since.

Murray Promises Steel Workers He Will Guard Them

Gary, Ind., Feb. 24. (AP)—Gov. William H. Murray of Oklahoma promised an audience of steel mill workers in this industrial city tonight he would guard their rights and promote their interests as president of the United States.

Continuing his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination, the Oklahoma governor recited a long list of what he called errors by the present administration and flaws in the financial system.

"The $2,000,000,000 reconstruction bill was put across to save two big New York banks," he said. "How much more good that money would have done were it distributed throughout the country in cash soldiers' bonuses."

VOTE LAW NOT TO GET ACTION

Brucker Refuses to Widen Scope of Call For Legislature

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 24. (AP)—Renewed demands were made today before Governor Brucker to widen the scope of his call for a special session of the legislature.

While legislators and municipal representatives were urging that the new voters registration law be included among the issues, Rep. Frank Wade, Flint labor leader, proposed a $12,000,000 bond issue to finance state building projects. The governor reiterated his stand to limit the session largely to "tax relief."

Escanaba Supports

Governor Brucker informed Mayor Peter F. Gray, of Lansing, recently that he will not include the vote law in his special session call. Despite the executive attitude, other delegations have urged that the statute be included. Among them were Rep. George Watson, of Capac, and Rep. Hazen Hatch, of Marshall.

Leo J. Smith, Lansing councilman and sponsor of the movement against the law, said today that twenty two cities were in support of the campaign. Among them he said were Jackson, Menominee, Manistee, Wyandotte, Marquette, Grand Rapids, Ishpeming, Ypsilanti, Lincoln Park, and Escanaba.

The plea of the cities is that

General Mah Slain In Manchuria, Say Chinese Reports

Shanghai, Feb. 25. (Thursday) (AP)—Chinese dispatches from Harbin, Manchuria, reported today that General Mah Chan-Shan, Chinese hero of the battle of Nonni river bridge last fall, had been assassinated in Harbin.

From a national hero, General Mah Fell low in Chinese public opinion recently when he called on General Jiro Tamon, Japanese commander at Mukden, whose forces General Mah's army opposed at Nonni river, and said he regretted having caused General Tamon "inconvenience."

CONSIDER AID FOR FARMERS IN NORTHWEST

SENATE WOULD GIVE BOARD'S WHEAT TO HUNGRY

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON
(Associated Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, eb. 24, (AP)—Wheat for the hungry in northwest farm regions was voted today by the senate while congressional committees approved two other bills to provide jobs for the unemployed and direct federal relief for the destitute.

Without a record vote the senate approved a bill to distribute 5,000,000 bushels of farm board wheat through the Red Cross to destitute farmers in the drought and grasshopper stricken states of the northwest for their families and livestock.

Meanwhile, the senate was again confronted with the issue of direct federal relief for the unemployed. Its manufactures committee approved a $750,000,000 substitute for the defeated La-Follette-Costigan bill.

Passes Without Debate.

At the other end of the capitol, the house roads committee voted to report a bill to make $120,000,000 immediately available for road construction to give work for the jobless.

The wheat bill was called up in the senate by Senator Norbeck (R. S. D.), who spossored it with Senator Bulow (D. S. D.), shortly after it had been approved by the senate agricultural committee.

It went through without debate and now goes to the house.

As approved by the senate manufactures committee, the $750,000,000 relief bill would provide $375,000,000 for road construction and a like amount for advances to the states to aid their destitute.

It was offered by Senator Wagner (D. N. Y.) as a compromise between the La Follette-Costigan bill and the Democratic substitute, both of which were beaten last week in the senate.

Wagner's bill would provide for direct grants of the relief funds to the states, as the original bill did, but the federal government would make up for the financial drain by deducting from federal and highway appropriations for several years beginning in 1937.

Cattle Are Starving

The LaFollette-Costigan bill proposed direct gifts to the states and the Democratic substitute provided for loans to the states.

A majority of the senate members voted for one or both of these bills, and friends of the Wagner measure hope to unite them in support of it.

The road appropriations authorized in the bill would not need to be matched by the states, as are the usual federal aid highway funds.

The bill approved by the house roads committee, in addition to providing $120,000,000 additional for federal aid highway construction would appropriate $7,-

Eighty Years of Hindenburg

Old Soldier Conquers Russia Where Napoleon Failed

(This is the fourth of six exclusive stories on President Paul von Hindenburg, Germany's greatest modern figure, who is now a candidate for a second term in the national election to be held in Germany on Sunday, March 13.—The Editor.)

BY MILTON BRONNER

Berlin, Feb. 24.—In the gray light of an early morning in the latter part of August, 1914, an old gentleman in civilian attire nervously paced up and down the railway platform at Hanover, accompanied by a solicitous old lady. It was Paul von Hindenburg and his wife, waiting for the special train which was speeding from the west front in Belgium, bearing General Eric Ludendorff, who was to be his chief-of-staff.

The two men had never met. All that Ludendorff knew about Hindenburg was that he had attained high rank, had retired, had reached the age of 67, but was, nevertheless, reported to have sharp wits and considerable military ability. It is doubtful if Hindenburg knew that much about Ludendorff.

German military headquarters was greatly displeased with Colonel-General von Prittwitz, who was in command in the east and who was clamoring that he must withdraw his troops beyond the Vistula. This would mean giving up most of East Prussia to the Russians, and if the Germans were then beaten, would open the way for the Russian steam roller to go crashing towards Berlin.

Then somebody at G. H. Q. remembered Hindenburg; that he was an East Prussian and had formerly been stationed at Koenigsburg, so that he was probably well acquainted with the terrain. Ludendorff was also an East Prussian. It would be a good scheme to send the older man as general and the younger man as strategist. So said, so done.

When Ludendorff's special train drew in, he stepped down, saluted and shook hands. It was the first time the famous pair

Roosevelt Discharges Farley for Failure to Explain Bank Deposits

BY WALTER T. BROWN
(Associated Press Staff Correspondent)

Albany, Feb. 24 (AP)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt ousted Sheriff Thomas M. Farley of New York today holding in a sweeping statement on the stewardship of public office that the Tammany Hall leader had failed to explain satisfactorily bank deposits in excess of $350,000.

The governor, who is a candidate for the presidency, removed Farley, kingpin in the organization controlling almost half of New York's Democratic convention delegation, on the basis of one of several charges brought by Samuel Seabury.

Farley

The accusations of Seabury, an independent Democrat, arose from Farley's testimony before the legislative committee investigating the municipal government of New York City. Seabury is counsel to the committee.

Must Provide Proof

In a broad pronouncement Roosevelt said it is "in the true spirit of a public trust" for office holders to give, when personally called upon, "public proof of the nature, source and extent of their financial affairs."

At another point he said "one of their (public officers) deep obligations is to recognize this, not reluctantly or with resistance, but freely."

"Passive acquiescence by unthinking people of the actions of those who shrewdly turn to personal advantage the opportunity offered by public office is out of step with modern ideals of government and with political morality. Such personal gain is not to be excused because it is accompanied by the respondent's popularity of person and great public generosity. x x x

"I am not satisfied with the explanation of the sources of a large portion" of the sheriff's income, the governor said, adding "and I hold that Sheriff Farley has not complied with the spirit or the letter of the rule which should guide public officials."

Seabury branded Farley a grafter and last week presented evidence at a hearing before Governor Roosevelt to show that the sheriff in five years had deposited $362,500 in various banks.

Last fall Farley, as a legislative committee witness, told of keeping his savings in a "wonderful tin box," which, he said, was the source of his bank deposits. Farley is the first Tammany official removed by Roosevelt, although he was asked to oust Mayor Walker and District Attorney Thomas C. T. Crain.

1,200-Word Statement

The governor's attitude toward the Farley charges had been a subpect of wide speculation despite Mr. Hoosevelt's insistence that he would not be influenced by any political consideration in arriving at a decision.

In his 1,200-word statement, Roosevelt criticized the practice

NEW TAX BILL BEING DRAFTED

One Feature of Present Law Certain to Be Retained

Washington, Feb. 24, (AP)—The house ways and means committee today reached its first decision on the administrative provisions of the new tax bill and agreed that one feature of the present law should remain unchanged.

This was the section authorizing corporations to file consolidated income tax returns for themselves and their subsidiary or affiliated companies. Two more administrative clauses remained to be written before the committee could vote upon the proposed tax on a selected list of manufactures.

They were proposals to repeal the provision allowing credits on foreign taxes paid by American enterprises and to modify the capital gains and loss tax of the existing revenue law.

Under the decision announced today by acting chairman Crisp after a closed session of the committee, interests with subsidiaries will be permitted to continue filing returns on joint profits for the corporate tax.

Plan Sales Tax.

It was proposed to split them in order that subsidiaries showing profits would bear all the taxes while those without profit would pay none. Although not announcing the figures of the vote, the Georgia Democrat said that it was Bi-Partisan and substantial.

The committee considered the proposition to dis-allow credits to industries operating here and abroad on their taxes paid to foreign governments but postponed action until tomorrow to obtain more information on what effect this would have on American export trade. Commerce department officials have been asked for the data.

"It was the unanimous opinion of the committee not to do anything to injuriously affect the export business of the United States," Crisp explained.

Only details remained to be worked out on the manufactures tax which is expected to yield about $600,000,000. On a two per cent basis, excluding foodstuffs and other necessities. Representative Rainey of Illinois, chairman of the sub-group, said however, it probably would require two more sessions for the completion of the draft.

Berlin Dispensers Of Beer On Strike

Berlin, Feb. 24 (AP)—Berlin will be beerless tomorrow. By a vote of 556 to 600 the saloonkeepers' union decided tonight to close in protest against the high government tax.

Beer will be "off" in the entire metropolis after 3 a. m. The authorities had intended to meet the retailers' demands about halfway a few days before Easter, but that promise was not sufficient to satisfy them.

In many German cities dispensers of beer have been going on strike because of the amount of money they have to turn over to the government.

Three Persons Die As Fire Destroys Home in Michigan

Wolverine, Mich., Feb. 24. (AP)—Fire which destroyed the home of Lee Hettrick at 12:30 a. m. today, caused the death of Mrs. Hettrick and two of the four Hettrick children. Hettrick and the two other children suffered serious burns.

The dead were Mrs. Hettrick, her 18-months-old son, Burton, and her two-months old daughter. The two children who escaped with burns were Marion, 4, and Dorothy, 3. They, and their father are expected to recover.

The entire family was sleeping in a single room when the fire broke out. Hettrick was able to save only the two older children. Flames kept him from reentering the house to save his wife and the other two children.

The origin of the fire was not determined.

Tapestry Showing Scenes of Christ's Childhood Slashed

Jerusalem, Feb. 24 (AP)—A beautiful tapestry depicting scenes of the childhood of Christ which hangs in the Grotto of the Nativity at Bethlehem has been slashed with a knife.

This became known today when the Franciscan Order addressed "a very strong protest" to the government against an act of vandalism on the very spot where tradition throughout the centuries has said that Christ was born.

Two Men Killed, One Hurt in Gun Battle

Roswell, N. M., Feb. 24 (AP)—Two men were killed and Deputy Sheriff J. M. Clifton of Lea county was critically wounded today in a gun fight fifteen miles north of Tatum, near the Texas-New Mexico line.

Clifton, shot three times, was taken by airplane to a hospital at Lubbock, Texas.

The dead are: Walter Carlock, said to be wanted in Oklahoma for bank robbery, and John O'Dell, who police said they believe to be an escaped Oklahoma convict.

INVADERS PUT ALL STRENGTH INTO COMBAT

THREAT OF CHINESE ATTACK PROMPTS LATEST DRIVE

BY MORRIS J. HARRIS,
(Associated Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright 1932, By The Associated Press)

Shanghai, Feb. 25 (Thursday)—Japan hurled all her forces in Shanghai against the Chinese defenses of Kiangwan today in a conflict that rose to new heights of fury.

Threat of a Chinese offensive to smash Japanese lines and block the landing of more troops drove the Nipponese forces against the Chinese strongholds in the heaviest fighting yet of the five-day drive on the Kiangwan front.

The village of Miaochungchen was in flames with infantry and machine gunners of both sides locked in combat roundabout. The Japanese said their troops at Miaochungchen, northwest of Kiangwan, had broken through and advanced 1,000 yards toward Tazang.

Forty Japanese army and navy airplanes, the greatest air fleet thus far unleashed by the invaders, rained down explosives in a supreme attempt to crack the Chinese resistance.

Village Destroyed

The Japanese threw into the battle all their strength of armaments and infantry. The fight raged over a line extending from Kiangwan to Miaochungchen and beyond. While the Japanese big guns and airplanes kept up an unceasing fire, the Mikado's sldiers advanced under the barrage in the face of a steady stream of Chinese rifle and machine gun bullets.

Tazang was virtually destroyed by Japanese bombers, although strong Chinese entrenchments were still there.

The Japanese laid details for the attack with the break of day. Numerous big guns were moved forward and twelve whippet tanks took up positions. As the atmosphere of the always thick morning time cleared sufficiently to give the artillery visibility, the guns roared and the tanks ploughed forward with their guns spitting lead.

Soon a squadron of ten airplanes appeared overhead, to be increased later into a sky-darkening armada.

None was allowed to enter the Japanese zone without the closest inspection by sentries stationed outside the trench. Officers said their tightly drawn defense was necessitated by the continued firing of Chinese snipers, whom they had been unable to eradicate.

All action was centered on the all-important sector northwest of Kiangwan, where spasmodic outbursts of firing had occurred throughout the night.

Reports of additional Japanese forces having arrived continued to circulate feverishly, but none had appeared this morning. The Japanese docks in the international settlement were cleared, some interpreting this as evidence that the reinforcements soon would land there.

Reports that the Chinese had shelled the Japanese wharves early today apparently gave a few stray shots the dignity of an attack. Japanese on the wharves, in their consulate nearby and aboard the flagship Idzumo, all within a line along the Japanese waterfront, said they were not shelled during the night.

WHITNEY URGES SHORT SELLING

Practice Essential to Stock Market, He Tells Committee

BY WILLIAM L. BEALE
(Associated Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 24 (AP)—Richard Whitney, president of the New York Stock Exchange, told a house committee today that "short selling is essential to the market and the market is essential to the country."

"If there had been no short selling of securities, I am confident that the stock exchange would have been forced to close many months ago," Whitney said before a judiciary subcommittee considering legislature intended to abolish or regulate the practice.

Questions brought out that Whitney believes:

"The new exchange ruling (requiring the written consent of customers before stocks may be loaned to short sellers), will not affect materially the availability of stocks for loaning.

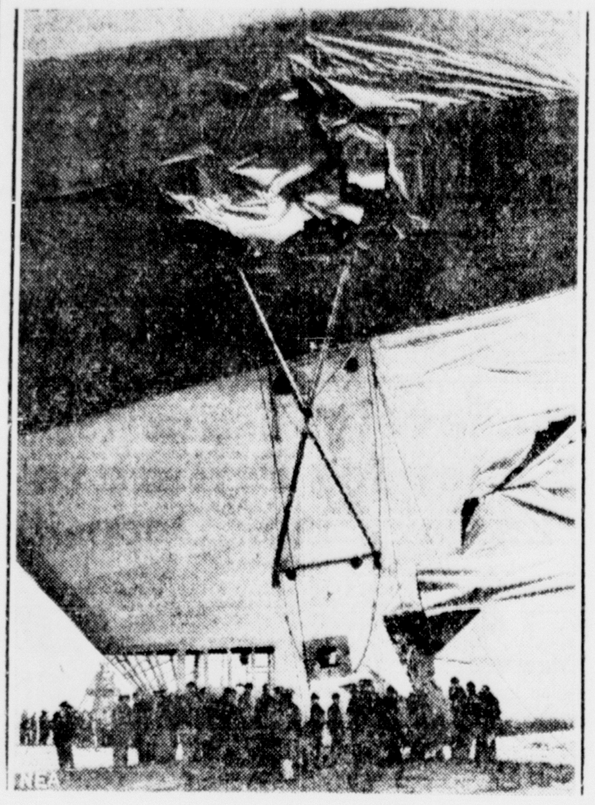
"Short selling has not been a cause of declining prices nor a major cause of the depression. There is no organized bear raiding. It is not permitted."

Representative LaGuardia (R. N. Y.) read the statement made by President Hoover last week saying there had been negotiations with stock exchange officials relative to limiting short selling. Whitney was asked whether the president requested the rule adopted by the exchange.

"I do not feel that I can say anything about any conversations with the president without his permission," he replied, and was directed by the committee to seek that permission.

"It was not taken in any way to correct existing evils," he replied to another question on the new ruling. "We did it because of an increased volume of complaints. It makes perfectly clear to customers what their rights are."

AFTER TEMPERMENTAL AKRON MISBEHAVED BEFORE "COMPANY"



Tossed in a wide arc by a sudden gale, Uncle Sam's biggest airship—the U. S. S. Akron—was swept loose from its strong moorings at Lakehurst, N. J. with the resultant damage pictured here. While members of a Congressional inspection committee stood by, waiting to take a ride, they saw the huge sky liner's lower stabilizing fin and an extra control gondola smashed and the bottom of the ship's covering fabric ripped off in enormous, dangling patches. Several weeks will be required to make the craft airworthy again, navy officials said.

FARLEY OUSTED BY ROOSEVELT

of Sheriff Farley and his predecessors in retaining interest on litigants' fees held by them. Farley's counsel at the executive hearing said his client only followed the custom of other sheriffs including former Governor Alfred E. Smith.

"It is sufficient to say that although long continued this has been a highly improper practice in New York county," Mr. Roosevelt declared.

The governor based his decision on the bank deposits alone discarding for various reasons Seabury's allegations that Farley permitted wholesale gambling in a political club he sponsored, that he committed perjury before the investigators, that he refused to testify at secret hearings and that he named inefficient subordinates.

REFUSE TO BREAK

New York, Feb. 24. (AP)—Tammany Hall desirous of maintaining a strategic position at the Democratic National convention refused today to break with Governor Roosevelt over his removal of Sheriff Thomas M. Farley.

Members of the organization of which Farley is a leader expect to control a large percentage of the state delegation's vote at the convention. By following an announced policy of not committing that support to any candidate before June, they hope to hold a balance of power which will help elect or defeat any of the outstanding candidates.

Tammany was represented as being uncertain at the moment just how strong a candidate Roosevelt actually is—and how powerful a contender for the nomination he is likely to be by June.

His own liaison officer, James A. Farley (No relation to the sheriff) had repeatedly claimed Roosevelt will be elected on the first ballot. James A. Farley is state Democratic chairman.

called the abandonment of congressional moves for reorganization over the past quarter of a century. He recalled, also, that for the last five years he had suggested that "the responsibility should be lodged with the executive with the right of congress to review the actions taken."

He added:

"I, of course, continue to entertain that belief, because of the failures of the past and I believe results would be most expeditiously and effectively accomplished if responsibility is lodged with someone to do it."

Although the president made no direct reference to proposals now in the congressional mill to consolidate the army and navy into a single department, many observers saw in the statement his first public opposition to the move. He is known to be opposed to it.

He declared government reorganization was a difficult job, especially if done "so wisely as not to injure the efficiency and morale of our army and navy and other essential government services."

The need for speed in the general reorganization was cited by the president. He said there was more hope now than at any previous time that congress would act because of the "transcendent need for economy," but added that he hoped it would be done "with such expedition as to give prompt relief to the taxpayers."

Cooperstock Gives Illustrated Talk

Dr. Moses Cooperstock of Marquette, director of the clinic of the Children's Fund of Michigan, gave an illustrated lecture before the Luce County Medical Society, the local dentists and nurses on Tuesday night in the amusement hall of the state hospital. His subject was concerned with oral defects caused by deficient nutrition and was interesting and instructive. As Luce county has one of the dental units of the Fund in operation under the supervision of Doctors Swanson and Purdy, the talk was of unusual interest here.

TRAFFIC DRIVE

The drive of the state police against traffic law violations continues with an arrest of two almost every day.

On Monday Norman Salmonson of Cedarville was tagged for not having a chauffeur's license. He will appear before Justice Henderson. The same day Frank Groney of Manistique was picked up for the same violation. He will be heard by Justice Stephens.

On Tuesday two other Manistique drivers got into trouble and will appear before Justice Stephens on or before February 26. Richard Ellen failed to observe a stop sign and Clayton St. John had no license for his trailer.

NEWBERRY BRIEFS

Bill Hemminger broke a toe on Tuesday when a stick of pulp wood dropped on it while trucking to Curtis for Jess Barrett. It will not keep him from working.

Miss Lorretta Ouellette of St. Ignace has been the guest of her sister, Miss Beatrice Ouellette, who is a teacher in the local schools.

Mr. Anderson of Lansing, a state engineer, is at the Newberry state hospital supervising the installation of a new dynamo.

The Booster's Class of the Methodist Episcopal church held their party for February on Tuesday night in the church parlors. Miss Ruth Stephens was in charge. Ladies from the state hospital community served the refreshments.

Mrs. Walter Johnson was the program chairman for the dinner-meeting of the Business and Professional Woman's club on Tuesday evening. Two talks were given, Ruth Stephens speaking on "The Life of Washington" and Marjorie Morrill on "Citizenship."

Members of the Newberry Study club are notified that they are at liberty to invite several guests to attend with them the Washington program being given on Saturday night in the high school auditorium. Mrs. Bystrom is in charge.

SENATE OKEHS JUDGE CARDOZO

Nomination to U. S. High Court Confirmed in Record Time

Washington, Feb. 24. (AP)—Without a dissenting voice, the senate today confirmed in about ten seconds the nomination of Judge Benjamin N. Cardozo of New York to succeed Oliver Wendell Holmes as an associate justice of the supreme court.

In as little time as it takes a presiding officer to put the question and wave his hand, the nomination was approved. Under senate rules the confirmation is held for three days before being sent to the white house.

The New York jurist, who is being elevated from the chief judgeship of the court of appeals of his state, is expected to take his place beside his new colleagues on March 14, when the supreme court reconvenes after recessing next Monday.

The smooth progress of Cardozo's nomination through the senate contrasted sharply with the vigorous verbal battles that followed the nominations of Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes and John J. Parker. Parker's nomination was rejected.

The name of Owen J. Roberts, the last appointee to the court prior to Cardozo, went through as uneventfully as did his today.

Michigan Reports Shortage of Ice

Detroit, Feb. 24 (AP)—A famine of natural ice next summer threatens throughout lower Michigan unless there is belated cold weather of sufficient intensity to make normal ice harvests possible on lakes and rivers.

Railroad officials reported today that transportation of natural ice by freight, which usually begins before this time, is far below normal and that many communities whose artificial ice facilities are inadequate to meet the full demand, are planning to import ice from the larger cities next summer.

Tourmaline crystals will permit the passage of light only in one direction.

Cartoonist Seeks Injunction Against "Mickey McGuire"

Los Angeles, Feb. 24 (AP)—Fontaine Fox, cartoonist, came to Los Angeles today to seek an injunction against the use of the name "Mickey McGuire" by Joe Yule, Jr., 11 year old motion picture player.

Fox's petition, in which he is joined by R. K. O. Radio Pictures and the Darmour Production company, claims "Mickey McGuire" is an important character in his comic strip.

There's a Thief In Illinois "Pen"

Joliet, Ill., Feb. 24 (AP)—There's a thief in the Illinois state penitentiary.

Prison officials announced today he has stolen the football team's football and two uniforms.

Warden Henry Hill told the prisoners they would have to find the thief before any more football is allowed.

a step that was taken as notification that they were determined to stop with guns the Japanese effort to land two divisions of army reinforcements.

Terrific Bombardment

Some military observers expected that the Chinese would seize the offensive with a mass attack on the Japanese positions in Hongkew, hoping to clean them up before the enemy's strength was doubled by incoming units already reported on the way.

All foreign consuls were asked by the Chinese authorities to get their nationals out of all sections of Shanghai close to the Hongkew strongholds without delay.

Taking no chances about the possibility that the Chinese were concentrating for an assault, the Japanese laid down a terrific bombardment in Chapei before dawn broke.

The shells started numerous fires and soon there was a tremendous conflagration which raged unchecked, lighting up the horizon north of the settlement. The flames consumed numerous buildings over a wide area.

Meanwhile in the Kiangwan-Miaochungchen sector both the Chinese and Japanese worked feverishly to strengthen their entrenchments. The Chinese machine gunners and sharpshooters stationed in the village of Kiangwan appeared to be sending up signals for food and ammunition.

Both the Chinese and Japanese on this front apparently awaited reinforcements before they started anything.

The Chinese triumphantly issued a communique asserting that during yesterday's action they took a number of prisoners and one of them was a battalion commander.

The action of the Chinese in requesting foreign consuls to move their nationals away from the vicinity of Hongkew was accepted as another indication that a drive was to be started to clear out the area before it was swarming with new Japanese troops.

This request was accepted as another portent of the drive to clear out the area before it was swarming with new Japanese troops.

The Japanese flagship Idzumo, headquarters of Vice-Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, is moored alongside the Japanese consulate, which is in the Shanghai bund just above the point where the Soochow creek runs into the Whangpoo. It is the center of the area in which the Chinese announced it would be dangerous for foreign ships to anchor. The consulate is less than two miles from strong Chinese gun positions in Chapei.

It was in this section of the Whangpoo that two army divisions were landed by the Japanese early this month when they found it necessary to reinforce the bluejackets who were repulsed in the original attempt to drive the Chinese out of Shanghai. But on that occasion the Chinese did not attempt to break up the landing movement with gunfire.

Heavy Casualty List

Indications of an impending Chinese offensive came as observers agreed the Japanese were attempting to allow things to simmer until their two new divisions arrived.

Finally blocked in their effort to smash the center of the Chinese line at Kiangwan, the Japanese shifted their attack late Wednesday to the Chapei front. Foreign military observers looked upon this as a "demonstration action" to keep the Chinese occupied pending the arrival of help.

The Japanese bluejackets saw considerable fighting during this activity in Chapei. A landing force was put ashore from warships in the river for an attack along the northern section of the war torn area, and the battle raged all afternoon. There was no apparent shift in positions.

Japanese military headquarters said their casualties during the last three days totalled 500, but officials declined to say how many of the 500 had been killed. This three-day period covered the series of desperate frontal and flanking attacks made by the Japanese in an effort to dislodge the Chinese defenders of Kiangwan.

General Tsai Ting-Kai, the youthful and poetic military man in command of the 19th Chinese route army, said that in the last four days his losses had been 1,700 killed and wounded.

Since the outbreak of the Shanghai hostilities January 28, the general asserted the army has suffered 2,200 killed and wounded and in the same period Chinese civilian casualties have totalled 5,550.

Move to Cut Pay of Board Members Begun in Senate

Washington, Feb. 24 (AP)—The $12,000 salaries of farm board members were singled out today for the first successful senate move for pay cutting.

The civil service committee approved a bill by Senator Borah (R. Idaho) to knock these salaries down to $9,600—just below the $10,000 level of members of congress which the committee refused to reduce.

The committee also approved an amendment by Senator George (D. Ga.) limiting salaries of all employees and officers connected with farm board operations to $15,00.

This hits at some of the highly paid officers of the stabilization corporations. It was disclosed at the senate farm board inquiry that salaries ranging as high as $50,000 and $75,000 are paid to some of them.

COMISH FAVORS STRONGER NAVY

Tonnage Should Be Up To Treaty Limits, Report Asserts

Washington, Feb. 24 (AP)—A navy as strong as treaties will permit was recommended to the senate today by its naval committee to place the United States in "a better bargaining position" at the Geneva arms conference.

Warning that the American fleet is "rapidly becoming a navy of obsolete ships," the committee reported that early enactment of the Hall bill to bring the navy up to limits fixed by the Washington and London treaties was "imperative."

The gigantic construction bill reached the senate just as it received Secretary Stimson's new declaration of policy in the far East, which some interpreted as a warning of the right by this government to disregard the Washington treaty if Japan continues her operations in China.

"We believe it is imperative that the United States authorize a building program at this time and thus give notice to the world that we intend to maintain the ratios established by the Washington and London treaties," the committee's report, submitted by Chairman Hale, said.

Becoming Obsolete

"It is believed that enactment of the bill into law will have a stabilizing effect on world affairs; it will signify that the United States intends to build up its navy if other nations build up theirs; it will put us in a better bargaining position in negotiations seeking further disarmament and our influence to bring about further disarmament, rather than being lessened by lack of a building program will be enhanced."

The report said testimony before the committee showed the navy "will in the near future be entirely inadequate properly to protect our country, our foreign trade, our foreign possessions, and our citizens at home and abroad."

Japan, the committee said, has approved and appropriated for a building program which by 1936 will bring its navy up to full treaty strength except for one aircraft carrier and six destroyers.

"To maintain the ratio allowed us with Japan by existing treaties," the report said, "it will be necessary for the United States to build 112 vessels."

The committee added that without further building the United States in 1936 will have only as many as Japan's 156.

TRUNK SLAYER DENIED RETRIAL

Winnie Ruth Judd Loses Appeal; May 11 Fixed As Execution Date

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 24. (AP)—Winnie Ruth Judd, convicted slayer of Agnes Anne LeRoi, was denied a new trial today in superior court and Judge Howard C. Speakman sentenced her to be hanged.

May 11 was fixed as date for execution of the sentence.

Before sentence was passed Mrs. Judd stood before Judge Speakman and attempted to argue that evidence presented in the case was not sufficient to convict her.

She charged that County Attorney Lloyd J. Andrews had not presented all of the evidence in the case of the shooting of Mrs. LeRoi and Miss Hedvig Samuelson.

"Those women were not killed in bed," Mrs. Judd declared a moment before Judge Speakman set the date for her hanging. She maintained her composure and showed no signs of nervousness.

Judge Speakman stopped her several times during her argument before the court.

"You have been in California and Arizona in the hands of the police for months," the judge said, "If you had anything to say that is not within the records of this court, then was the time to have said it, not now."

"Have you anything to say that is within the records of this case?" he asked.

"Those girls were not murdered!"

Mrs. Judd declared in her brief argument that Andrews had failed to show that the girls were shot while in bed. She said there was no motive, no anger nor premeditation in the shooting.

After sentence was passed, she was taken from the courtroom to her cell in the Maricipa county jail to await the removal to the state prison at Florence.

Judge Speakman denied a motion of defense counsel that a stay of three days be granted for her removal to the prison.

In the Headlines From Washington

(By The Associated Press)

Senate confirmed nomination Benjamin N. Cardozo as supreme court associate justice.

Secretary Stimson said in letter to Chairman Borah of senate foreign relations committee treaties affecting Orient are threatened by Sino-Japanese conflict.

Senate and House conferees agreed on $10,000,000 revolving fund bill for loans to agricultural credit corporations.

President Hoover expressed pleasure over congressional consideration of federal governmental reorganization but reiterated belief this could best be carried out by placing power with president.

Senate and house conferees agreed on terms of credit expansion bill.

Senate approved bill to distribute 5,000,000 bushels farm board wheat to destitute farmers in northwest and its manufactures committee approved $750,000,000 substitute for defeated La-Follette-Costigan federal relief bill.

Senate naval committee reported Hale bill to build navy up to treaty limits.

A similar measure is pending in the senate as an amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill.

The agriculture committee acted on the wheat resolution after Norbeck testified that 10,000 families in the central northwest area were being cared for by the Red Cross and thousands of cattle were starving.

GIRL, 22, FOUND DEAD, ATTACKED

College Student's Body Revealed in Shallow Ditch

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 24 (AP)—Missing for 24 hours, Miss Else Flothmeier, 22-year-old college student and daughter of a minister, was found dead today in a field in the extreme northeast section of the city.

Stripped of all clothing except a narrow band of silk across her back, the body was found in a shallow ditch by two boys who were aiding police in a search for the young woman.

Miss Flothmeier disappeared yesterday afternoon soon after she left her father, the Rev. Frederick Flothmeier, pastor of the Tabor Lutheran church, to take a walk through a small park nearby. The spot where she was found is half a mile away.

Her clothing was found hanging on a bush about 200 yards from the body. The back showed scratches, indicating police said, that she may have been dragged over the frozen ground.

Police said a theory she was attacked and slain was strengthened by information given by Mrs. Helen Soltes, whose home is about 200 yards from where the body was found.

"About 7 o'clock last night," she said, "I heard a woman's scream and then another sound that might have been a man's voice. It seemed to come from the direction of the field, but it was so dark I decided not to investigate."

A camera and X-ray combination is now lowered into the stomach of a patient suffering from stomach ulcers to determine the location of the sores.

Battalino Kayoes Minnesota Fighter

St. Louis, Feb. 24. (AP)—Christopher "Bat" Battalino, former featherweight champion, knocked out Billy Shaw, of Minneapolis, in the second round of their scheduled ten-round bout here tonight.

Three stiff rights of the jaw in quick succession downed Shaw for the count in the middle of the second round. He had been floored twice in the first round, once for a count of seven and again for a count of eight, just as the bell rang.

Battalino weighed 133; Shaw 132.

Wesley Ramey, Grand Rapids, Mich., decisively outpointed Lou Terry, St. Louis, in ten rounds. Ramey weighed 133; Terry 132.

Double Receivers Not Necessary, Nowack Charges

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 22. (AP)—The state was asked today to inquire into the necessity of double receivers and attorneys for the Fidelity Trust Co. and the Metropolitan Trust Co., both of Detroit. The request was made before Governor Brucker by Ed A. Nowack, Lansing publisher.

Nowack charged duplication in the work of the receivers and attorneys and claimed their large fees not justifiable. The publisher threatened to carry his case to the legislature should the state refuse to act.

Nowack charged that Kenneth M. Stevens, political ally of Brucker, is receiving $750 a month as one of the attorneys, and that Dr. Charles E. Smith, of Detroit, also well known in political circles, is a receiver.

Diamonds found in Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois gravel deposits are thought to indicate the presence of a great diamond field to the north.

W. FLOYD DIES AT IRON RIVER

Was Formerly Escanaba Railroad Man; Last Rites Saturday

Word was received here yesterday of the death of William Floyd, retired railroad man, which occurred Wednesday morning at Iron River where he had been making his home for the past few years.

Mr. Floyd was born October 5, 1856, in Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, and went to Saginaw, Mich., when a young man. He was married on May 30, 1881, to Miss Minnie Bager, who died May 1, 1930. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd came to this city from lower Michigan shortly after their marriage and lived here until 1908 when the family moved to Iron Mountain, later to Ironwood and spent one year in Long Beach, Cal., where Mrs. Floyd died. After her death, Mr. Floyd returned to Iron River to make his home with a daughter.

Mr. Floyd was first employed on the Peninsula division of the Chicago & North Western railway at Escanaba as a locomotive fireman. While on this division he held positions as oil man, caller, locomotive fireman, and night roundhouse foreman in this city, later roundhouse forman at Antoine and Stambaugh. On July 18, 1892, Mr. Floyd had the misfortune of losing his left arm and three fingers on his right hand. He resumed work in December, 1892, as supply man in the oil house nights. He was so employed until May, 1893, when he was changed to day caller.

In 1895 he was appointed night roundhouse foreman in Escanaba, working in that capacity until about April, 1908, when he became ill with typhoid fever. He resumed work after being appointed roundhouse foreman at Antoine and later at Stambaugh.

On November 16, 1896, Mr. Floyd was transferred to the Ashland division at Ironwood as night roundhouse foreman, and on December 1, 1918, transferred to day roundhouse foreman at Watersmeet on the Ashland division, which position he held until his retirement which became effective October 31, 1926, having reached the age of 70 years, when he was placed on the pension roll of the company.

Mr. Floyd is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Chester Perkins of Iron River, formerly Minnie Floyd, and one son, Frank, of Stambaugh. A daughter, Gertrude, died October 31, 1918. Funeral services will be held in Iron River Saturday with burial in the Iron River where his wife and daughter are buried.

Flu Epidemic

This little community has been experiencing a mild epidemic of influenza during the past two weeks. A large number of cases have been reported, but, as yet, none have proved to be very serious.

Attendance at local schools has suffered greatly during the past few weeks. Many members of the basketball team were ill with colds, that the game with Stephenson, scheduled for last Friday, was postponed to a future date by the mutual consent of the two schools.

Personal News

Mr. and Mrs. William Damitz have arrived here from Saunders, Michigan to make their future home here. Mr. Damitz has succeeded Otto Brukardt as local depot agent. Although Mr. Brukardt has been an employee of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad for eighteen years, due to the depression, he was forced to give way to Mr. Damitz, who is his senior in point of service. Mr. Brukardt, who has been agent here for nearly ten years, is undecided as to what he will do for the present.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Johnson and family spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Bergman in Escanaba.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred LeClaire spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carlson at Escanaba.

Miss Flora Stewart visited in Chicago over the week-end, where she was the guest of a sister.

Mrs. Otto Larson, son Gordon, and daughter Dorothy and Charles Larson Jr., were Gladstone callers Saturday.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT

Paul Lukas appears opposite Ruth Chatterton in the role of the romantic doctor in Paramount's filmization of Philip Barry's play, "Tomorrow and Tomorrow," an emotional and highly dramatic triangle-theme story. It is the Delft theatre's feature for two days, beginning today.

In enacting the role of the doctor who brings happiness in love to a young, courageous, and unconventional wife to whom marriage is not enough, Lukas returns to work with the star with whom he rose to talking film fame.

Lukas and Miss Chatterton make a combination admired by fandom, particularly in romantic roles. Both being highly educated, their intellectual and temperamental qualities complement each other and contribute to their effective naturalness in roles involving the love element.

Lukas has appeared as Miss Chatterton's leading man in three of her greatest successes, "Anybody's Woman," "The Right to Love" and "Unfaithful," and now for the fourth time in "Tomorrow and Tomorrow."

An established leading man in talking pictures through his work with Pola Negri, Lukas had become a character player until given these romantic parts with Miss Chatterton.

Burns Are Fatal To Mrs. Poquette

Mrs. Joseph Morin, 504 South Nineteenth street, received word yesterday of the death of her niece, Mrs. Fred Poquette of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., formerly Miss Catherine Benoit of Escanaba.

Mrs. Poquette was severely burned Saturday, Feb. 20, when a can of kerosene with which she was lighting a fire at her home, exploded. Mrs. Poquette give birth to a premature child shortly after the accident and her condition had been critical ever since.

Mrs. Poquette was reared in this city and left here about four years ago with members of her family to make their home at Sault Ste. Marie. Besides her bereaved husband she is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Benoit; one sister, Mary Jane, and five brothers, Clifford, Leon, William, Clayton and Joseph, all of Sault Ste. Marie.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete but will be held at Sault Ste. Marie.

Mrs. Poquette attended St. Anne's school in this city and later was employed at the Woolworth store here.

Big Rapids Fires Too Few for Profit

Big Rapids, Mich.—This city has been so free of fires that the department is losing money.

Volunteer firemen, who are paid only for runs they make to fires, have been unable in the last year to earn enough money from fire-fighting to pay the cost of maintaining telephones in their homes, required of all volunteer firemen by a city ordinance.

So the city has stepped in and agreed to pay half the cost of the telephones.

Resident of Harris Dies Wednesday; Ill For Last Six Years

Death claimed Mrs. Frank Krutch, 63, Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the family home in Harris, following an illness of six years due to diabetes. Mrs. Krutch had been in bed for the past 13 months.

Mrs. Krutch, formerly Miss Mary Ries, was born April 23, 1868, in Abersinn, Bavaria, Germany, and came to Escanaba when a young girl. She secured work in the home of Dr. Tracy, first mayor of Escanaba, and later in the home of the late Dr. Philips. She also was housekeeper for Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Burns, who conducted a dry goods store here for many years. Twenty-nine years ago she married Frank Krutch at the Catholic church in Bark River and the family have lived at Harris continuously since that time.

Besides her bereaved husband, three daughters survive, Miss Viola Krutch, of this city, Miss Beatrice Krutch, at home, and Mrs. Arthur Keeler, also of Harris. One sister, Mrs. Louise Stein, of Escanaba, and one brother, John Reis, in Germany, also survive.

Mrs. Krutch was a member of the Christian Mothers and the Ladies' Altar society of St. George's parish in Bark River.

The body was taken to the Allo Funeral Home to be prepared for burial and will be removed to the family home in Harris this afternoon. Funeral services will be held at St. George's church in Bark River Saturday morning at nine o'clock when a solemn requiem high mass will be offered with Rev. Fr. J. D. Breault as celebrant. Interment will be in the family lot at Bark River cemetery.

OPPOSE DIVERSION OF HIGHWAY FUNDS

TAXPAYERS of the upper peninsula and in the northern counties of the lower peninsula will look with a considerable degree of apprehension toward the coming special session of the state legislature. It will be generally recognized that if there is any general tinkering by the state legislative body with the general tax laws of the state, the northern counties of Michigan will, very likely, find themselves holding the bag.

While Gov. Brucker has not yet issued the formal call for the special session, in which he must set forth in definite particular what matters are to be considered at the special session, there is a feeling that he will listen to the demands being placed before him by various interests for radical changes in the state tax law.

It is practically certain that the governor will bring before the legislators the situation that has developed in certain counties, where large amounts of covert road bonds have been floated and accompanying that matter there is bound to be thrown into the legislative basket the proposal that a portion of present state highway funds be diverted to relieve the general tax burden.

When it is considered that highway construction has provided the major outlet for employment relief for the past year in Michigan, is hard to appreciate that there can be a serious proposal to deliberately wreck the state's most prolific source of general employment.

Upper Peninsula counties and counties in the northern section of the lower peninsula, where continuous highway construction is an absolute necessity for future development of these territories, must take the position that they must not be made to suffer most grievously, merely because a few lower peninsula counties went on an over-zealous road building spree and contracted debts they cannot now pay.

Upper peninsula counties and northern counties of the lower peninsula must stand together against any proposal to divert present highway funds to other uses.

HINDENBURG'S NEW FIGHT

PAUL VON HINDENBURG, running for re-election as president of Germany at an age when most men have long been in retirement, is undoubtedly the sentimental favorite in the race—on this side of the Atlantic, at any rate.

But in order to understand the kind of race the grand old warrior has entered, it is necessary to realize that this German election is utterly unlike the ordinary American presidential election. Dark clouds hang over all horizons, and the thunder rumbles ominously. The road ahead has three forks, and two of the three lead to revolution and turmoil unspeakable.

The Communists — fourth strongest party in Germany in the last election and strongest of all in Berlin—hope to lead the nation down their road. The Nazis—German name for the Fascisti—headed by the flighty Hitler, have another road in mind. Von Hindenburg is all for the third one.

Until recently, the Reds and the Nazis had things very much their own way. The Nazis have cloaked, beneath a platform of irresponsible nationalism, the aims of a reactionary big-business clique, which hopes to use the party to crush the labor unions and the Social Democratic party and to give Germany a dictatorship of wealth.

Caught between two extreme forces, the ordinary citizen has at last begun to organize into a group known as "The Iron Front." This group draws its recruits from the leading republican organization, the Reichsbanner, from the labor unions and the Catholic Center party; and like its opponents it has organized into a semi-military outfit which already owns a fleet of autos, motorcycles and airplanes and which is prepared to match blow for blow with either Reds or Nazis if it comes to fighting.

The peculiar character of the approaching German election thus becomes apparent. A victory for either Reds or Nazis would probably mean civil war—which, in its turn, might mean any kind of catastrophe you care to imagine for the rest of Europe. Only if this "Iron Front" group, behind Von Hindenburg, triumphs can the rest of the world breathe freely.

It is probably the old soldier's last fight. But it is one in which the rest of the world will wish him well.

WHAT WILL COME OF IT?

E. C. UNDERWOOD, chairman of the Luce county board of supervisors, pleaded guilty to illegal possession of furs this week and paid a fine of $50. Several other pleas of guilty and nominal fines have been reported since the state conservation department sprung the illigal beaver trapping expose, and undertook to secure the punishment of the guilty. In general terms, however, those involved have been but little hurt. The highest fine has been $100 and they have run as low as $15. In many cases the fines have been suspended. For men prominent in their communities and who have been involved in the cases the notoriety has been the worst aspect of the punishment.

If anything comes out of the proceedings it will be remedial measures, embodied in legislation if need be, that will follow on the report of Judge Moll, of Detroit, who devoted two weeks or more to one-man jury investigations. Judge Moll must have been able to get an accurate story of the extent and ramifications of the fur frauds, and he must have been able to form an accurate idea of how, if at all, they can be prevented in the future.

At the outset it was reported that a traffic of $1,000,000 had been uncovered. It's the consensus that this figure is absurdly large. But it's clear that if the traffic were no more than a tenth of or a twentieth of the amount a traffic of $100,000, or $50,000, can not be successfully fought with nominal fines. Some more effective means of dealing with it must be found.

There is much about this fur fraud to be cleared up. It is to be hoped that in due time the conservation department will make a comprehensive statement of the salient facts. What was its extent? Were department agents either negligent or participants? What measures are to be taken to prevent its repetition? —Marquette Mining Journal.

GERMAN ATTACK FAILS

On Feb. 27, 1918, heavy German attacks on French positions at Butte du Mesnil failed.

Two attacks were launched, both of which were beaten off with heavy losses by French artillery and machine gun fire.

The positions which were the German objectives had recently been taken by the French.

The action was the most severe in several weeks on the western front and indicated that spring operations were about to begin.

Nancy, France, was bombed by German airplanes, but damage was reported as slight.

German troops in Russia continued their unopposed advance, occupying Boriseff and numerous small villages.

THE DIME-A-DANCE GIRL

(By NEA Service) BY JOAN CLAYTON

CHAPTER XIX

Ellen brushed aside all coquetry and pretense as she told Steven how proud he had made her. She tried to make him understand how much she liked him, at the same time explaining that she did not love him. She was more successful than she had hoped to be. She should, of course, have explained that she was already hopelessly in love with Larry Harrowgate.

Pride, backed by a desire to hurt him as little as possible, forbade that.

Because she had not told him Steven felt he had yet a chance to win her. He fancied that he had frightened her by being premature, by rushing his suit. Ellen was to blame for that. All unconsciously, she had hardened his determination to make her his wife.

The girl was pleased and grateful that he had made her refusal so easy.

"Will you do me one favor" he asked.

"I'll be so glad to."

"Then call me Steven."

"Steven," she said obediently, flushing. "Steven, Steven — it sounds odd for me to be saying that."

"It sounds rather nice for me," he amended boyishly.

They parted as friends. Ellen would have preferred that they should see each other no more, but such a suggestion was impossible just as it was equally impossible to speak to him of the gossip at the store. The inference would be too plain. The one step to protect her from this gossip would be so obvious.

As she said good night Ellen determined that in the morning she would resign her position at the store and seek another. In this manner she would obviate the possibility of encountering him each day. Another job would carry her out of the reach of wagging tongues. Another job was the solution. She must leave Barclay's.

She was not surprised to find Molly up and about. At the sound of the key in the door, Molly appeared, a cold duck sandwich in her hand. She offered half to Ellen, an offer which was refused, then perched herself on the arm of a chair to demand an account of the drive.

Ellen flung off her hat. "I'm too tired to talk," she said, moving toward the bedroom. "Nothing happened except that Mr. Barclay asked me to marry him—"

"Oh, Ellen! You call that nothing!"

"And I refused him." Ellen stared with serene finality.

Molly's face was almost comic in its abrupt transition from delight to complete dismay.

"Ellen, you didn't!"

"I did. And furthermore in the morning I'm leaving Barclay's for another job."

She was very tired. To have refused Steven had been hard enough in itself. How could she bear a recapitulation of that refusal? How could she bear to meet Molly's hysterical reproaches? But Molly remained unexpectedly calm.

"If you don't feel that you love him," she said quietly, "you did the right thing."

The desperate move on which Molly had risked everything was successfull. Ellen's surprise mastered her fatigue.

"Mother! Then you do think I'm right"

"Of course, my darling," said Molly, as she relinquished her sandwich and came toward her daughter.

She drew Ellen into her arms, murmuring that now she was no longer a little girl and must decide her own problems. She was so calm and reasonable that Ellen was reassured. Strangely enough she felt her own attitude veering. She began to wonder if she had been unwise, to wonder if Larry were not the illusion and Steven the reality.

"I like him," she said wearily, "but I just don't love him. You've no idea how hard it was for me to refuse him!"

"I know I didn't understand in the first place," Molly said, feeling her way, "but I do now. You must make your own decision—I can't do it for you. You'll have to live with the man you marry, not I. I'd have been pleased for many reasons if you'd decided for Mr. Barclay—he would be so good to you."

"I know."

"It would have been so much easier for all of us," Molly sighed.

Ellen began to feel selfish. She could not know, as Molly herself scarcely knew, that her mother was laying a deep and subtle trap. When Ellen went into the bedroom, she was unsure of herself and her wisdom.

Myra was in bed with a book on her knees. She looked up and smiled a welcome but she had determined to let Ellen alone and not ask questions.

Ellen, however, wanted a confidante. She came over to the bed, removed the book from Myra's hands and sat down.

"Steven Barclay asked me to marry him," she said abruptly.

"So soon, Ellen!"

"Too soon," Ellen answered darkly. She added, "I shouldn't have said that. I really think he rushed matters because he thought we all desperately needed a lift. Myra, he was wonderful, wonderful! But I don't want to marry him."

"You won't be seeing him any more then?"

"Oh, I'll be seeing him."

There was a silence in the dim bedroom where only one light burned. Pale moonlight filtered through an open window, lay in patches on the scared floor and shone on the big old-fashioned bed with one grave-eyed girl against the pillows and the other at her feet.

"Do you think it would be very wrong to marry a man you liked because you—because you couldn't marry one you thought you loved?" Ellen asked suddenly.

"Oh, I don't know, Ellen."

"The funny thing is I don't really know where I am," Ellen went on in a puzzled way. "My feelings whirl around like a shuttlecock. There'd be no problem at all if I didn't like Steven, but I do! I can't decide whether I'm being mercenary and grasping or—"

"You're not that. You know you're not! Don't even imagine such things!"

"But if he didn't have any money—"

"That's extremely foolish of you," Myra interrupted sharply. "I'm not taking sides in this but I won't have you imagining that you're something you're not. You're every bit as good as Steven Barclay. What if he does have money? You're beautiful. You're sweet and good. You're well-born—"

"You sound like a novel of the '80s," Ellen broke in with a rueful little laugh.

"Just the same, it's true," persisted Myra.

"D'you know, I wasn't sure whether I was going to say 'yes' or 'no' until I did," Ellen said, staring out at the winking electric sign across the street.

"You'd know what you were going to say, wouldn't you, if it had been Larry Harrowgate?"

Ellen's face turned scarlet.

"He hasn't asked me," she answered, her cheeks continuing to flame. "I haven't a reason in the world to imagine he will when he's engaged to another girl."

"Has he—ever said anything that might suggest he meant to tell you about that."

"No, he hasn't," Ellen admitted in a low, strained voice. "That's what makes me—well it doesn't make me hate him but it makes me think I should. Oh, why can't men be more fair?"

There was no answer to that question. Both girls knew it. Presently Ellen murmured a good night and slipped off to her own bed. Myra dropped her book to the floor and snapped off the light.

Ellen was awakened by a pounding on the door from the living room. Earlier in the night her sleep had been light and troubled but toward morning she had fallen into heavy slumber. Nevertheless, the terrific noise brought her wide-awake at once. Sure that the building must be on fire, she roused Myra, told her to wake Molly and Mike; grabbed her kimona and ran through the living room to the door. It was barely 6 o'clock.

She jerked open the door and stood in foolish surprise, abruptly conscious of her disheveled attire. Facing her was John Farnum, owner of the building.

"What do you mean rousing us at this hour" she gasped indignantly, trying to hide her bare feet.

MARY'S PIE

We celebrate the glories of
A lot of lesser things we love.
But, when the human heart rejoices,
Let's for a moment raise our voices
And give a little honor, too,
A little praise where praise is due.
To things we have been overlooking
Like—well, for instance, Mary's cooking.

Yes, for a moment let us try
To sing the praise of Mary's pie.
Concocted out of certain berries,
Or apples, apricots or cherries.
A verse well-written may be good.
And things of metal, cloth or wood.
But when a pie is necessary
Then what the world needs most is Mary.

Perhaps the world needs most of all
The things the world considers small.
And they perhaps have best succeeded
Who made good pie when pie was needed.
We celebrate the larger things,
And yet perhaps what really brings
The world its joy that never varies
Is things like pie — for instance, Mary's.

GAUTHIER CASE AT TOWN HALL

Fairbanks Justice Will Preside at Hearing For Supervisor

For the convenience of witnesses living at Garden and others interested in the case, Prosecuting Attorney G. W. Jackson said yesterday that arrangements had been made to have the Charles Gauthier hearing at the Garden town hall Saturday instead of at Fayette. Justice of the Peace Lars P. Peterson of Burnt Bluff will preside, and the case has been called for 9 a. m.

Gauthier, who is the Garden township supervisor, is charged with a violation of the election law, and is alleged to have solicited votes in the first precinct polling place last April. The complaining witness is Elmer Hall of Isabella, who was a candidate for justice of the peace on a ticket opposed to Gauthier.

William J. Casey, 75, who resides at 320 South Twelfth street, fractured his right hip in a fall Tuesday evening near the Knights of Columbus club. He was taken to St. Francis hospital where the fracture was reduced and will probably be laid up for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Casey were to attend a meeting at the club rooms. Mr. Casey stopped the car near the front entrance of the K. of C. club when Mrs. Casey alighted from the car and went into the building. Mr. Casey went farther up the block to find a parking place and after parking the car fell as he was getting on the sidewalk. He was taken into the club rooms where Mrs. Casey and their son were at a meeting, and he was immediately removed to the hospital.

Spelling Bee Notes

Trenary school of Alger county will again compete in the Daily Press spelling bee, official entry of pupils of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades having been received yesterday.

CATHERINE GRANT TRENARY

Forty-five pupils will seek the school title and the honor of representing their community in the grand championship event to be held in Escanaba sometime in April. They are taught by Pauline Jensen, Elenore M. Waite and Genevieve Miller.

Last year, Catherine Brant captured the school honors and competed in the finals. She did so as an eighth grader and is therefore no longer eligible to compete.

Pupils entered, according to grades, are:

Eighth — Arthur Wirtanen, Helmi Lektikangus, Pauline Smith, Molly Oberstar, Pauline Stambo, Irene Trenary, Evelyn Hoy, Tony Koresh, Anna May Kallio, Frances Lustick, Gerta Hews and Valno Forsberg.

Sixth—Arvi Aho, Jim Bucholtz, Irene Erickson, Arnold Iho, Arvi Jarvic, Marion McLaughlin, Julia Likulich, Wilma Richmond, Elmer Savola, Richard Smith and Charles Tervo.

THOMAS TELLS OF SO. ARABIA

British Explorer Spent Years Winning Natives' Confidence

BY ROBERT ST. JOHN
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

New York (AP)—Although the great South Arabian desert is now a desolate stretch of sand dotted with dead men's bones, Bertram Thomas, a British explorer, is convinced it once was a fertile pleasant land in which a now unknown civilization flourished.

It was Thomas who last year risked death by murder, starvation and thirst to make a 600-mile trek across that "empty quarter of the world," which had been called the last unexplored strip of the globe.

To make the perilous trip across the desert never before crossed by a white man, Thomas explained, he was forced to spend 15 years winning the confidence of the natives.

He learned their language, adopted their garb and manners, acquired a taste for their food, and grew a beard, which is essential to swear by.

During those 15 years he was made prime minister of the Sultan of Muscat-Oman and succeeded in introducing copper currency into the desert land.

On the fourth-month trip Thomas almost froze at night, and by day sweltered under temperatures far above 100 degrees. He lived almost exclusively on camel's milk and lost 30 pounds.

The desert Nomads, he said, talk in a sort of blank verse and when two groups of them meet, they chant a greeting to each other, and killing and stealing are their "national sports."

"If a member of one tribe kills a member of another tribe," Thomas explained, "the avengers are not particularly interested in catching the actual murderer; they feel justice has been done as long as they execute one of his friends or relatives."

In the Arabian towns a murderer is tried by placing a red hot dagger on his tongue. If a blister appears, the man is considered guilty.

When a Nomad dies, half his cattle and camels are slaughtered "to save his soul."

"The most expensive wife costs 80 cows," the explorer said.

The gridegroom pays half this marriage price to the girl's father before the wedding and the other half to more distant relatives afterwards.

If a woman wants a divorce she must pay her husband half the marriage price. Faithless wives are killed with impunity.

Captain T. E. Lawrence, famous Arabian explorer, in explaining, in the introduction to Thomas' book, that the last unknown land has now been explored, said:

"Would-be wandering youth now must go unsatisfied till a winged generation lands on some planet."

U. P. Briefs

Five Escape Death.

Menominee—Five youths on two ice boats narrowly escaped death on Green Bay last night when an ice field, acres in extent, broke up under the boats.

The boats plunged down into 30 feet of water, and the young men reached shore by jumping from one cake of ice to another.

Wet sails of the boats were visible in the moonlight for several hours, but this morning they had been swept from sight by a brisk wind which stirred up the cakes of ice.

Robert Kuhnle, 20, was the skipper of one boat, and in charge of the other was his cousin, John Kuhnle, 16. Passengers were Leroy Dolliver, 16, and his brother, Norman, 24 and Robert Gulbranson, 21.

DUMB THIEF

Springfield, Ill.—There's one thief in this city whose dumbness is going to get him into jail one of these days. He stole a pocketbook belonging to Mrs. Margaret Moore. Detectives searching for the thief found the pocketbook. The robber had taken 20 cents from it, but had left a watch, rings and other jewelry in it. He evidently overlooked the most valuable part of the loot.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's oldtime enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablet while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" — bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Miller Opposing Wilford in Race for Supervisor

WILLIAM J. MILLER

Rapid River, Feb. 24, (Special)—Yesterday marked the close of the time for filing nomination petitions for the primary election to be held in Masonville Township Monday, March 14. A check up upon the petitions indicate that there will be contests for the offices of supervisor and highway commissioner. Supervisor H. J. Wilford will be opposed for the nomination by William J. Miller, former supervisor. Last year Mr. Wilford won out at the election by a margin of 5 votes.

For the nomination of highway commissioner, petitions have been filed by I. M. Christiansen, a former commissioner, Charles Unuck, Louis Thibault and Levi Barboo, incumbent. L. E. Scott filed for clerk, with no opposition. Edna Young filed for treasurer and Carl Vietzke for member of board of review. No petitions were filed for justice of the peace, full term, and non for the constables.

The primary system was adopted by the voters last spring and takes the place of the old caucus system.

It is expected that the several candidates will wage a spirited campaign for the nomination because the nomination at the primary virtually assures the election of the successful nominees.

Archie Robarge, 72, Schaffer Resident, Called by Death

Archie Robarge, 72, well known resident of Schaffer, died at his home 11:30 o'clock Tuesday night after a week's illness due to pneumonia.

Mr. Robarge was born in Joliet, province of Quebec, Canada, and came to live in Schaffer about 30 years ago to engage in farming.

His wife died six years ago. Two step-children, Mrs. Donald Collins and Joseph Larmey of Two Rivers, Wis., and a sister in Canada survive.

The body was taken to the Allo Funeral Home to be prepared for burial, and will remain there until the funeral hour. Funeral services will be held at Sacred Heart church in Schaffer at 9 o'clock Friday morning, with Rev. Fr. Jutras officiating. Burial will be in the Schaffer cemetery.

Mr. Robarge was a member of the Holy Name society of the Schaffer church.

Idea of Copper License Plates Not Abandoned

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 17.—Only after giving careful consideration to every phase of the question, did the Department of State decide to have 1933 automobile license plates made of steel and not of copper.

The lowest price for which a suitable copper plate could have been obtained, according to bids received by the department, was 19-cents per set while steel plates for 1933 will cost 12-cents per set. When 1,350,000 sets of plates are considered the use of copper would have increased the cost by $94,500.00.

It was felt that the difference in cost was too great to justify the use of copper as in the final analysis that sum of money would be taken from the funds available for 1933 highway construction and maintenance. Another fact considered was that the amount of copper needed would not have been sufficient to provide any appreciable amount of extra employment for Northern Michigan miners.

While the 1933 plates will be of steel, the department has not abandoned the idea of using Michigan-mined copper for this purpose. Experiments will be carried on in an effort to devise some way in which copper plates can be made more cheaply so that the difference in price in future years, will not be so great.

PILOTS SHOW INCREASE

Washington—At the close of 1931 there were more licensed airplane pilots in the United States than there were planes, a report from the Aeronautics Branch of the U. S. Department of Commerce shows. There were more than 17,700 licensed pilots, and only 10,780 planes. New York had the largest number of planes and California the largest number of pilots.

Persons with incomes of $1,000,000 annually number 194 in 1930 as compared with 504 the year before.

William Oliver, 70, Claimed by Death

William Oliver, aged 70 years, of Rock River township, died at the Munising hospital at 9:10 o'clock last Tuesday forenoon after a long illness. Mr. Oliver has resided in Alger county for the past forty-five years. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2 p. m. from the Bowerman funeral home, the interment to be in the Au Train cemetery. The pallbearers will be selected from the past masters of the Masonic lodge.

ROTARY MEET

The Munising Rotary club enjoyed a George Washington program at its meeting Tuesday noon at the Beach Inn. The speakers were: G. W. Putnam, manager of the Experiment Farm, R. M. Iglehart and H. O. Johnson, each taking for his topic some phase of Washington's life. Miss Esther Osser gave a Washington Day reading to piano accompaniment by Miss Swenson of the Mather high school.

DEVELOPMENT MEETING

The Munising Development club met at the Legion County club last Monday evening. Dinner was served by the Cloverland Cafe and the time afterwards was spent largely in discussions where future meetings are to be held. Some misunderstanding has arisen between the club and the American Legion as to the charges to be made for the use of the gymnasium where, until a little over a year ago, it was customary to hold the meetings every two weeks. Several suggestions have been made as to how to adjust the matter and it is within the range of posibility that future meetings will be in an entirely new location. A suggestion that seems excellent to some of the members has been made and it is probable that a definite decision will be reached at the next meeting of the club if not before that time.

MUNISING BRIEFS

Charles J. Johnson went to Marquette yesterday on business.

Mrs. Leona Warchock, who has been a patient at the hospital, will be dismissed today, and will return to her home at Star Siding.

The Misses Ruth and Esther Kemp, Mildred Tidd and Thelma Cotey spent Sunday and Monday at Miss Lena Delger's lodge at Onota.

J. A. Vizena was a business visitor at the Soo yesterday and while away will visit the entire eastern portion of the peninsula.

Mrs. Benjamin Hankin and little daughter, Barbara, have returned from a visit with relatives at Chicago.

Charles Hinz returned this week from Ashland.

SOCIAL

ENGADINE

Engadine, Mich., Feb. 24, (Special)—Mrs. A. R. McDonald, and Mrs. Frank Quinn, were the guests of honor at a surprise party given at the home of Mrs. McDonald on the occasion of their birthday anniversaries.

The affair was arranged by Mrs. William Patterson, and Mrs. Minnie Brock. The afternoon was spent in playing bridge, with prizes going to Mrs. Myrtle Eakley first; and Mrs. Howard Boucha second; after the games a delicious lunch was served. Both ladies received many beautiful and useful gifts. Those present were, Mesdames Brock, Patterson, Butler, Petty, Floria, Bebee, Myrtle Eakley, Pearl O'Neil, Mrs. Carl O'Neil, Olga O'Neil, Simmons, Vallier, Collins, Boucha, Mrs. Ruby Boucha, Reifenberg, Halstad, Edwards, Hancock, Kitchen, Burnett, Abram, Mrs. Leonard McGraw, Mrs. James McCraw, and Miss Elsie Reifenberg.

The school program which was given in the Engadine Township Hall Monday afternoon was very well attended. A very small admission was charged, the proceeds of which will go toward the purchase of a picture frame to be used in the framing of a picture of George Washington, which will be hung in the class room.

"Face the Fight Singing"

Says Elizabeth Marable Brennan

"America is facing phychological bankruptcy with poverty in the minds of its people and money in its banks," according to Mrs. Elizabeth Marable Brennan.

"I am happy to say that in the American homes I have recently visited," said Mrs. Brennan, "I find every homemaker resolved to keep up the high standards she has selected for it. In many instances this requires splendid courage.

"But the great need today is for courage, for faith, for activity. It is the place of women to hold up their heads, to open their pocketbooks and to refuse even to say the word, depression. Gossip, moonings and suchlike must be silenced, and the members of our group have pledged themselves whole-heartedly to face this fight for business as our soldiers faced battle—singing."

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of the series of articles concerning what the women can do to end the depression, which are being reprinted by The Press through the courtesy of the Ladies' Home Journal.)

St. Joseph Unit Holds Meeting

St. Joseph's Parent-Teacher unit held its regular meeting Tuesday evening in the school auditorium.

The entertainment features of the evening included a piano solo by Helen Jean Beck, and a minuet, "The Days of Washington," presented by the children of the third grade in Colonial costume.

At the business meeting following the entertainment a talk on the meter surcharge plan of unemployment relief was given by Harry D. Brackett.

Bicentennial Program Given At Club Meeting

The Escanaba Woman's club held its particular Bicentennial observance last evening presenting a fitting tribute to the memory of the great statesman, in its Washington Bicentennial Memorial program.

The program, arranged under the able direction of Mrs. Carl E. Berger, was given at the First Presbyterian church at an open meeting of the club, attended by members and their guests.

Featuring the program were Living Pictures of the Life of Washington, beautifully staged and costumed. The Herald announcing the pictures was Mrs. Roy Nerbonne and the dedication at the opening of the program was given by Mrs. George Ramspeck, president of the Women's Relief Corps.

Presenting the pictures were the Voices of History, Mrs. W. H. Dickson, Mrs. J. H. Stephens, Mrs. Charles Lewis, Mrs. Sam Dunn, Miss Margaret Pease and Miss Alma Suter. Colonial children were Bobby Brackett, John Berger and Thomas Harris, Jr.

The stately, graceful minuet of Washington's day, was a charming presentation, danced by a group of eight club members, under the direction of Mrs. A. O. Syverson. The lovely Colonial costumes, the graceful dance and the accompaniment by Miss Ferne Fontanna, pianist, and Melba Anderson and Melvin Holm, violinists, combined to make the number one of unusual charm. Colonial ladies of the minuet were Mrs. Elizabeth Gilmore, Mrs. W. H. Dickson, Mrs. L. K. Edwards, and Mrs. E. C. Voght. The Colonial gentlemen were Mrs. J. H. Stephens, Mrs. G. W. Moll, Mrs. T. J. Daley and Miss Alma Suter.

Spirited music of the program was given by the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, and by the Escanaba high school orchestra under the direction of R. P. Bowers.

At the closing of the program, Mrs. Charles Semer, chairman of the legislative committee, read an excerpt of a letter from Washington to LaFayette. The final number was the playing of taps by John Mitchell.

An exhibit of antiques and relics of Colonial times arranged by Lewis Cass Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, in the Chapter's cooperation with the club in the program, attracted considerable attention. The exhibit was in charge of a group of members of the Chapter, Mrs. G. C. Gracer, Mrs. George Geniesse, Mrs. G. Stegath and Mrs. A. J. Perrin, who were in Colonial costume.

Mrs. Berger was chairman of the evening. Hostesses were Mrs. Fred Earle, Mrs. H. L. Holderman, Mrs. C. J. Burns and Mrs. Catherine Anderson.

Lacquered Hair Coiffure Note

Paris, (AP)—Lacquered hair is a new note in coiffures for feminine heads. The hair is treated with a lacquer which does not change its color, but which makes each hair almost twice its normal size.

It is then arranged in ringlets and swirls and allowed to dry. The lacquer, which is used only in the evening, may be easily washed off next morning.

HINTS FOR THE INDOOR GARDENER

The first spring flowers always are the most appreciated ones. Therefore, instead of waiting until the ground is right outside, why not start a pot garden right this winter?

You should have about a half dozen pots of greenery. English ivy and various kinds of ferns are ideal for this. The rest of your pots should hold azaleas, sultanas, narcissus, tulips, daffodils and other flowers due to bloom at this time of year with a bit of coaxing.

To make your garden a blooming one, even before the flowers come out, you can paint your pots various colors. It is an excellent idea to paint the greenery pots the gaudiest shades, bright yellow, geranium red, and so forth.

Angel Sleeves in Style Picture

Paris, (AP)—Angel sleeves have returned to the mode. Teatime frocks are often designed with big swooping sleeves, and the newest negligees have elaborately wide sleeves drooping to the wrist.

One of the outstanding negligee models is of ruby georgette, while another is of turquoise blue satin. Both are designed with angel sleeves.

Former Wells Teacher Is Idol Of "U" Athletes

A story of Miss Nan Fleming of the University of Minnesota hospital staff, appearing in the St. Paul Daily News of February 7, will be of interest to many Escanabans. Mrs. Fleming, who is known to Escanaba residents as Miss Agnes Fleming, is a former teacher in the Wells school, and is a sister of Mrs. John Ryan of Milwaukee, formerly of this city. The story under the captain, "Nurse is Idol of 'U' Athletes Who Get Hospital Terms," is as follows:

"Introducing the nurse behind the football lines—

"That is, introducing Miss Nan Fleming to all but athletes of the University of Minnesota. To them she needs no more of an introduction than do their mothers.

"The small army of stars who have held the football, basketball, hockey and track stages at the university since 1919 know Miss Fleming as the nurse who does for them what University hospital cannot do.

"The library doesn't have the magazine in which their continued story is running. Miss Fleming digs down in her own pocket to get that magazine. She it is, who hurries through her own newspapers so that the boys can have the sport sections. She is the one who discovers what dish they hunger for and she brings it to them. She keeps an eye on their candy supplies and makes it her business to see they are never exhausted.

"She does these things because she is an ardent sport fan and because she delights in pleasing the players she so admires.

"Probably no class of students find themselves in the hospital as frequently as do athletes. After or before a game, or after practice they come with broken legs, bruised fingers or for X-rays. They may stay only overnight or they may remain several weeks. No matter, Miss Fleming drops around during the time when students are busy at classes, to see that the players are not lonely.

"Among her patients at the present time is Walter Hass, captain of the 1932 football team. Patients of the last week have included Virgil Licht and Glen Bethel, basketball stars, while a recently released patient is Clarence Munn, 1931 Gopher All-American guard. Bronko Nagurski, Kenneth Haycraft, Quentin Burdick and Win Brockmeyer are others who testify as to her kindness.

"'The players are ideal patients,' Miss Fleming said. 'They are so anxious to get back and get into the game that they swallow the most bitter medicine without a murmur. The first thing they ask me when they come in is, 'Am I going to rate a football bed?'

"Football Beds."

"'We have especially built beds for football men. These beds are painted ivory instead of brown and they are longer than the other beds. You'd be surprised how the players fill these beds too. Frequently we give football beds to track, basketball and hockey men and they are so pleased they almost forget they are in the hospital. In the years I have been here, I have never known an athlete to admit he was sick. He'll take his medicine, he'll talk for the physician, but he'll never own he is in a critical condition.'"

"Miss Fleming, who is medical supervisor at the main hospital, has at least 50 other patients in addition to the players, yet she finds time to chat with her favorites. She begins her day by looking at the register to see if any players have been admitted to the hospital overnight. She never misses a home game and frequently travels with the football team to out-of-town games."

Tortoise Shell Bags Popular

Paris (AP)—Tortoise shell bags have made their style debut. They are made in flat pouch design about eight inches wide and five inches deep and finished with a clasp of two tortoise shell buttons.

Celluloid bags in the same pattern are popular with the younger set, who prefer to carry them in such bright tints as sapphire blue, watermelon red and grass green.

HONOR STUDENTS FOR '32 NAMED

Virginia Goodman, Valedictorian; Ruth Estensen, Salutatorian

Virginia Goodman has been named valedictorian and Ruth Estenson, salutatorian, of the class of 1932 of the Gladstone high school according to information given the press yesterday by Supt. A. R. Watson. Others on the honor roll of the class, according to standing are Clifford Buckmaster, Alice Johnson, Winifred Jackson, Marie Bredahl, Agnes Mitchell, Astrid Helman, Jack Staple, and June Rosenblum.

Fifty-four students will be graduated with the class, it was announced, twenty-eight of whom will complete the College Preparatory course, thirteen the Commercial course and thirteen the General course. In issuing the list Supt. Watson advised that those named are reasonably sure of graduation if they can carry their work as scheduled.

In addition to the list given out there are two more students who have a chance to graduate if they can finish their incomplete work from last semester. These two students are being given an opportunity to do their work within the next six weeks, and their graduation depends on their efforts in meeting the schedule and getting the incomplete work out of the way before April 1.

The class of 1932 is one of the largest ever to be graduated from the Gladstone schools and according to the records was exceeded only in 1929, when 57 were given their diplomas. In 1930 the number was 42 and in 1931 the roll contained 51 names.

TWO TICKETS IN BRAMPTON

Rossow and Kee Head Factions in Battle for Township Offices

Two full tickets are in the field for the township offices in Brampton township, Clerk Walter Van De Weghe, announced yesterday when filing time for the primary election on March 14 had closed. Heading the two tickets are David N. Kee, jr., and Arnold T. Rossow, who are opponents for the office of supervisor. Rossow, the incumbent was elected last year in a hotly contested battle in which he was opposed by Kee.

The fact that there is no opposition within the parties of the two opposing factions, it is doubtful that a primary will be held and both tickets will go on the ballot at the general election on April 4.

In the event that a primary is called by the board, it will be the first time in the history of the township that a primary has been held to nominate township officers. In previous years the nominations have been at a caucus. The primary was adopted a year ago by a vote of the township electors.

Candidates on the Kee ticket and the offices which they seek are as follows:

Clerk—Walter Van De Weghe.
Treasurer—Rose Stock.
Highway Commissioner—Peter Norstrom.
Highway Overseer — Nick Eagle.
Board of Review (2 years)—Matt Haga.
Justice of the Peace (full term)—Norman J. Harris.
Constable (4 to be elected)—Harold Switzer, Rene Maskart, Ed. Johnson and Clifford Johnson.

The Rossow Ticket.

Clerk—Joseph P. Richards.
Treasurer—Joe Anderson.
Highway Commissioner—Sander Larson.
Highway Overseer — Charles Berg.
Board of Review (2 years)—Henry Schaawe.
Justice of the Peace (full term)—John A. Berg.
Constable—Oliver Lund.

Illustrated Talk at City Club Meet

S. A. Dalson, Appleton, will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the City club tonight at the Legion hall. The address by Mr. Dalson will be illustrated by motion pictures which will show the manufacturing processes of wall board. In addition Mr. Dalson will show a short motion picture film of the Dempsey-Tunney prize fight.

Mr. Dalson's appearance in Gladstone was arranged by the C. W. Davis company, who will have as their guests members of the carpenter trade in the city.

Preceding the address of the evening, a banquet dinner is to be served at 6:30 and the regular business meeting of the club will be held. Committee reports and plans of the club will be discussed.

The paid membership of the club has now reached the total of 21, it is reported. This number will likely be increased 100 per cent before the end of this week.

BOWLING NOTES

RIALTO'S WIN TWO

In a match marked by mediocre bowling, the Rialtos Tuesday night took two out of three games from Lieds, in the first match of the week in the Rialto league. Lieds rolled 852 to take the first game of the series by a large margin but fell down badly in the last two games.

Two double-century scores were rolled. Savageau piled up the pins for 208 in the first game and Upon came through with 204 in the second game.

The scores:

Meet to Welcome New Army Captain

A meeting to welcome Capt. E. Hallborne, recently assigned to the Salvation Army post here, will be held at the Swedish Mission church on Friday evening. The meeting will be attended by a number of Army officers from various cities near Gladstone, including Ensign and Mrs. A. Hamilton of Marinette, Capt. and Mrs. C. Anderson and Lieut. Lucilla Anderson of Escanaba.

The address of the evening will be delivered by Ensign Hamilton, to whose post Capt. Hallborne was assigned for four months before coming to Gladstone.

The public has been invited to the meeting

Nine Vaudeville Acts Are Booked For Legion Show

Nine acts of vaudeville have been signed up for the Legion show to be held on April 7, B. C. Chatfield, chairman of the committee in charge announced yesterday. Other numbers may be added, he said, if necessary to round out the program and provide two full hours of entertainment. The numbers include singing, dancing, comedy skits, playlets, and monologues.

Rehearsals for the show are now being held and the numbers arranged so as to balance the program. The show is to be presented in the high school gymnasium through arrangements with the board of education.

Following are the numbers as announced by Mr. Chatfield:

Osmund Coutant, monologist in a singing and talking act.

Quartet of male voices in a group of songs. Members of the quartet are Noble Swenson, C. C. Strickland, Albin Nelson and B. C. Chatfield.

Louise Smith, specialty dancer.

Percy Cameron, a comedy skit.

Skeleton Dance, arranged by H. G. Wescott.

Playlet, arranged and directed by George Weingartner, Rock.

The Gleisner Sisters, Escanaba, in dialect songs.

Pertinent Comment

Because I have been given much,
I, too, shall give;
Because of Thy great bounty,
Lord,
Each day I live.
I shall divide my gifts from Thee
With every brother that I see
Who has the need of help from me.

Because I have been sheltered,
fed,
By Thy good care,
I cannot see another's lack
And I not share
My glowing fire, my loaf of bread,
My roof's shelter overhead.
That he, too, may be comforted.

Because love has been lavished so
Upon me, Lord,
A wealth I know that was not mean
For me to hoard.
I shall give love to those in need,
The cold and hungry clothe and feed,
Thus shall I show my thanks indeed.

The thought in these three verses written by Grace Noel Crowell need no amplification, but they should be read again and again, until the sentiment that they contain become implanted into the mind of every man.

We should all remember that what we have and what we are is due to a force beyond ourselves and that same force could, if it would, reduce us to a position as untenable as is the position of those who are now dependent upon the charity of their fellows.

2 MORE SEEK COUNCIL POSTS

Frank Lied and Claude Wendland Announce Candidacies

Two more candidates have thrown their hats in the ring for council posts in the persons of Frank E. Lied, prominent local business man, and Claude Wendland, son of Herman Wendland, former chief of the local fire department.

Friends of Mr. Lied's persuaded him to become a candidate for the post and a petition was taken out yesterday afternoon. Mr. Wendland secured his nominating petition Tuesday afternoon. Neither of the candidates have as yet announced the platforms upon which they will run.

As a member of the dairy products firm of Lied's, Inc., he has been in business here for the past nine years. Mr. Lied has been actively associated with the Manistique chamber of commerce, and two years ago held the position of president of that organization.

Mr. Wendland has been engaged in several business enterprises here. He was educated in the local public schools and for the past 15 years has served as a volunteer fireman on the city fire department. He is married and is 31 years old.

Three candidates are now in the field for the three vacancies in the city council caused by the expiring terms of John A. Falk, August Carlson, and the death of the late Frank N. Cookson. J. Wesley Gilligan filed his petition for the office last week.

Several more petitions are expected to be filed during the coming two weeks. All petitions must be filed no later than March 15.

THEATRES

GERO

George O'Brien, featured in the Fox picture, "Riders Of The Purple Sage," from Zane Grey's renowned romance, coming to the Gero Theatre today adds another feat to the roster of his daring exploits. In this picture he rides through a waterfall in pursuit of cattle thieves. Marguerite Churchill plays the feminine lead and Noah Berry and Yvonne Pelletier are also featured under Hamilton Mac Fadden's direction.

Zero Weather Halts Work on Trunk Sewer

Work on the trunk line sewer being laid in Montana avenue was at a standstill yesterday as the thermometer continued to hover near the zero mark. The cold weather has made the cost of trenching and laying pipe prohibitive and the contractor is holding back on the work until such time as the temperature is more favorable.

Under the contract the work must be completed before May 1. With good weather, a large crew could perform the entire construction work in 30 days and it is expected that when the first of April comes, the work will be speeded as much as necessary to complete the job on time.

Up to the present time one block of sewer has been laid. The entire contract includes five blocks of sewer in Montana avenue and five blocks in Eleventh street.

THEATRES

RIALTO

The amazing sum of drama, suspense, romance and adventure that is tallied in the big cities of today, and most frequently is enacted all about us without our eyes and senses fathoming the ever-present clues and symbols, is projected for our benefit, energetically and eloquently in the new photoplay being shown at the Rialto Theatre, "24 Hours," a Paramount Picture.

With a cast featuring Clive Brook, Kay Francis, Miriam Hopkins, Regis Toomey and a number of other stage and screen performers equally talented, "24 Hours" was destined to succeed.

Norton Heads Cage League Committee

Hubert Norton was elected chairman of the executive committee of the city amateur basketball league at a meeting of the committee Tuesday evening. The executive committee will have charge of all questions on eligibility and transfers of players as well as control over general policies.

Children under high school age will not be admitted to any of the league contests unless accompanied by their parents. On Friday evenings and evenings preceding holidays, the above ruling will be lifted.

The committee also decided that two new players acquired by one of the leading teams would not be eligible to play on that team, but would have the alternative of joining any of the three lower division fives. The eligibility of Dick Hudson was also taken up at the meeting, but no definite decision was reached.

"Come in and stop shouting," she answered shortly. "Have the kindness to wait until I dress."

"I'll have the kindness to do nothing," he barked. "Your mother's put me off with excuses long enough. If you've got the money to buy a parcel of new furniture and a lot of fancy grub, if you've got money to entertain folks who have limousines you've got enough to pay your rent."

"You shall have your money immediately," Ellen announced, wondering as she spoke if there were enough in the apartment to satisfy his claim.

She left him standing by the door. Myra in the bedroom had just succeeded in rousing Molly and Mike.

"There's no fire," Ellen said. "It's just Mr. Farnum suddenly troubled at 6 in the morning about his rent. We'll have to pay him immediately."

"He'll wait," declared Molly, relieved and promptly sleepy again. "I talked to him day before yesterday—on Saturday. I explained how hard-up we are. Let me see him. Where's that kimona?"

"I'm afraid it will be useless to see him now," Ellen stopped her. "He's heard about our party last night. I've no doubt he knows every item on the menu."

"That's the trouble with living in a place like this," Myra observed fretfully, pounding her pillow into plumpness. "Everybody talks so."

"We won't be living here long if we can't get the rent together. Mr. Farnum looks in a mood to carry our furniture down to the street personally. Just how much money have we any way?"

"I borrowed $200 on the insurance. There should be lots left. My pocketbook's on the bureau."

Molly went to sleep again. When the pocketbook was opened it appeared that she had been unduly optimistic. She had managed the day before to do away with over $160. Ellen could not hide her consternation. How were she and Myra to bring the vitally necessary insurance to date again? But the present problem was the rent.

By emptying her pocketbook and Myra's they succeeded in piecing together the $60. It left them exactly $12 for the week's food and carfare.

Ellen saw that it was out of the question for her to resign her position. It would take at least a week to find another. Even the possible $25 from Dreamland Saturday would not be sufficient to tide them over.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Feb. 24 (AP)—Stocks took a distinct upward slant today and although they closed under the top, due to late selling, there was a comfortable margin of net gains.

The small turnover somewhat dimmed the performance, but many brokers saw little reason to look for anything but dull markets until there is a more definite change in basic influences. From the technical viewpoint the list acted well, for at last night's close it had lost about half of the last advance and the prompt appearance of support, after a slight setback at the opening, gave encouragement. Sales totaled 1,085,640 shares, or some 200,000 under Tuesday's volume.

National Surety, which deferred dividend action, was one of the weak spots. Worthington Pump preferred "B" and Radio preferred "A" were others, although sales in each were small. Detroit Edison and Norfolk & Western also found the market thin, but their reactions could be ignored in view of the 1 to 2 point gains for U. S. Steel, American Telephone, American Can, General Electric, Southern Pacific, Santa Fe, New York Central and North American.

It was hard to find much that was encouraging in the weekly industrial statistics. "Iron Age" reported a sag in steel production to 26 per cent, the car loadings decrease was greater than seasonal and Electric Power output for the week ended February 20 was off 8 per cent from a year ago, the largest decline in the present depression. A smattering of adverse dividend actions and 1931 earnings figures were other happenings which the share market was able to ignore.

New York, Feb. 24 (AP)—Government bonds of the United States and Great Britain today proved strong buying magnets in the loans market, and a number of them moved to new high levels for the year.

Corporate domestic issues, however, continued their dull and uncertain trend of yesterday and only in a few spots was there even fairly active trading. The averages sagged fractionally nd sales for the day totalled $10,783,000.

Strengthened belief that the Glass-Steagall credit expansion bill will rejuvenate federal loans continued to bring investors into this list. Significance was also attached to the buying of acceptances by the federal reserve banks and reports of purchases of government securities by other banking institutions.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Feb. 24—Stimulating transAtlantic advices, including forecasts that Germany would reenter the world's wheat market as an importer within a month, hoisted all grain values today.

News from abroad was more favorable to wheat holders than has been the case for a long while. Apparently, almost every country in Europe will need to buy wheat, owing to heavy inroads made on native supplies, and as a result of over-estimates of yields, together with widespread damage to crops.

Wheat closed firm at the day's top level 1¼ to 1½ above yesterday's finish, corn 1¼ to 1½ up, oats 1-8 to 7-8 advanced, and provisions unchanged to 10 cents lower.

Corn and oats rose with wheat, notwithstanding that in the east corn was reported to be selling at relatively below a Chicago parity. Country offerings of corn to arrive here were generally held above buyers' views. Corn traders had reports that it was decided to put corn on the British freelist.

Provisions sagged, responsive to downturns in hog values.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—March, 59 3-8, offers; May, 61½ to 3-8, 68¼ to 5-8; July, 62 3-4 to 7-8, 64 7-8 to 65; September, 64 3-8, 66 ½. Corn—May, 40 to 40 1-8, 41 3-8 to ½; July, 42½, 43 7-8 to 44; September, 45 1-8, offers.

Curb Mart Swings In Upward Motion

New York, Feb. 24 (AP)—The Curb market swung into the upward portion of its narrow trading arc in continued sluggish trading today.

The advance was somewhat spotty, but on the whole, the list developed a firm tone. The turnover was only 140,000 shares, or 30,000 less than yesterday.

Recent weakness of the issues of Aluminum Co. of America was accounted for by an announcement of a reduction to 75 cents from $1.50 in the quarterly dividend on the preferred issue. This seemed to have been fairly well discounted, however, for the preferred lost only a point, and the common rallied a fraction.

Some of the motors developed a better tone. Ford of Canada "A" sold up a point, and Stutz gained ¾. Ex-Cell-O Aircraft rose a fraction, reflecting a report that it operated at a profit during January, after showing a deficit of $259,108 for 1931.

New York, Feb. 24 (AP)—Frederick H. Ecker, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., has been elected a trustee of Consolidated Gas Co. of New York. He succeeds Mathew S. Sloan who recently retired as head of the Consolidated Gas interests.

Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific railroad expects to place orders this week for 200 tons of rail with either U. S. Steel Corp. or Inland Steel Co. The road plans to purchase 16,000 tons during the year.

80 YEARS OF PRESIDENT HINDENBURG

had ever met. They quickly boarded their train and started off in haste for Koenigsburg.

The German situation was serious enough. Their army had General Rennenkampf, with a huge Russian army on one side and General Samsonoff, with another army further south. Maybe Hindenburg knew something about the hatred between the two Russian commanders, which had begun in the Russo-Japanese war. Whatever it was, he determined to put his fortunes to the test.

He withdrew most of the troops facing Rennenkampf, leaving only a slight screen. He concentrated all the troops he could secure in an endeavor to draw Samsonoff into a trap. It succeeded.

The Russian army was almost annihilated. Ninety thousand prisoners were taken. Samsonoff shot himself on the battlefield which Hindenburg named Tannenberg. It was the revenge for the defeat his ancestors had suffered here nearly 500 years before. Joy bells were rung all over East Prussia. Germany, as a whole, heard of this old dugout for the first time. Small fortunes were made selling his pictures.

Hindenburg now went hotfoot after Rennenkampf's army, which narrowly escaped a trap and got out of German territory. By mid-September East Prussia was cleared of Russians.

But, as a whole, things were not going well for the Central Powers. The Allies had more than held their own in the west. They had won the battle of the Marne. In the east, the Russians were in Galicia and were threatening Hungary.

Hindenburg was made commander-in-chief of the armies of the east. As such, he wanted to make an offensive towards Warsaw, but his plans were limited by the timid Falkenhayn, then generalissimo of the German forces. Notwithstanding that, he did lead his armies near to Warsaw and was then compelled to fall back because of Austrian defeats.

Then Hindenburg turned about and captured Lodz in Poland.

The Grand Duke Nicholas, chief of the Russian armies, had lost 250,000 men in six weeks and winter was coming on.

Nevertheless, in response to the call of the Allies in the west, he prepared another grandiose plan, involving millions of men. One huge army was to force its way through the snowy passes of the Carpathians into the wheat plains of Hungary—the breadbasket of the Central Powers. At the same time, another big army was to invade East Prussia. Hindenburg, himself, took charge of the troops in East Prussia and in February was fought the second battle of the Masurian lakes, resulting in 110,000 Russians being captured.

Hindenburg believed, if given the troops, he could put Russia out of action completely in 1915, compel Russia to sue for peace and thus give German opportunity to concentrate all her troops on the western front in the end.

But Falkanhayn did not believe Russia could be conquered. Napoleon had tried and failed. So Hindenburg never got all the troops he wanted. He had beaten the Russians nearly every time, but the Russian armies were still gigantic, still full of fighting spirit.

But Hindenburg drove on. Libau, Mitau, Lemberg were captured. Novo Georgievsk, with a garrison of 100,000 men, fell. Then Warsaw was taken, and Grodno. In six weeks the Russian front had receded 150 miles.

Grand Duke Nicholas was removed and the czar, himself, assumed supreme command. Once more the Germans moved, particularly in the north. Riga, Kovno and Vilna were occupied, and by the late summer of 1915 the Russians began to think of defending Petrograd from capture.

But in his main object, Hindenburg had failed. His attempt to encircle the main Russian armies had not come off. The Russian front remained unbroken. Whatever the enthusiastic German population might think, Hindenburg knew Russia still had plenty of soldiers, some very good generals, and her food plains were unoccupied.

In 1916 Russia began to move again. Her armies effected little against the Germans, but in the south, under Brussiloff, the Russians smashed the Austrian Fourth Corps, reached the Carpathians and saw the Austrians in Bukowina run away.

But Russia's strength was broken, as events were soon to prove when she sued for peace.

HEADS JAP NAVY AFTER WAR ROW

Admiral Prince Hiroyashu Fushimi, above, has been appointed chief of the Japanese navy's general staff, replacing Admiral N. Taniguchi, as a result of the dispute over handling of the Shanghai invasion. Fushimi is cousin of the late Emperor Meiji, famed grandfather of the present mikado.

History was to show that Hindenburg, then nearly 70, had succeeded where Napoleon failed, in conquering the land of the czars.

Then things came to a standstill, but the Allies scored by bringing Rumania with a million men into the war. In the meantime, Falkenhayn denied further troops to Hindenburg. He needed them all for the luckless and savage attack on Verdun, where the flower of the German army perished in a futile effort to crush the French.

By July, 1916, the kaiser and his flatterers came to a sense of realities. Accompanied by Falkenhayn and others, they came to the castle of Pless in Upper Silesia. Hindenburg and Ludendorff were sent for.

Falkenhayn resigned and Hindenburg was made commander-in-chief of all the armies, with Ludendorff as his quartermaster general.

The new chief at once decided there must be no more Verduns. The German armies on the west must stand on the defensive for the time being. The first business in hand was to attend to those Rumanians. Joint armies of Germans, Austrians, Bulgarians and Turks were set in motion and in a swift and ruthless campaign the Rumanian army was put out of business.

Hindenburg could now pay some attention to the west. He might well have said to his kaiser what Foch said to Clemenceau:

"You give me supreme command in a lost battle and ask me to be happy about it."

Everywhere the Germans had performed prodigies in arms, but the British and French armies were themselves performing heroic miracles and the Russians still gave signs of fighting strength. England's grip on the sea had tightened and her blockade of Germany had made the people of the kaiser feel the bitter pangs of hunger.

TOMORROW: The new commander-in-chief of all Germany's armies takes charge on the heels of starving Germany's terrible "turnip winter" in 1916. . . . The allies are halted, and the great German drive of March, 1918, brings their darkest day in the World War. . . . American doughboys at the Marne, and the turn of the tide . . . from bad to worse . . . the ashes of November . . . an old hero retires for the second time.

Slot Machines Taken.

Iron Mountain—Three wrecked slot machines, found by Martin Smith on a side-road leading to his farm a short distance southwest of Randville, and turned over to Sheriff Rudolph Freeman, told part of the story of a robbery reported at the road house conducted by Domenic Spera, in Florence county, near Spread Eagle.

The theft became known yesterday when Sheriff Freeman communicated with Arthur Sells, district attorney at Florence, in an effort to trace the machines. The machines had been smashed open and whatever money they have contained was gone.

Better Outlook For Farmers Predicted

New York, Feb. 23 (AP)—A better outlook for farm products and commodities generally was seen tonight by speakers at a meeting of the American Statistical association.

While predictions of any sudden appearance of prosperity or upturn in prices were notably lacking, it was the consensus that conditions would take on a more cheerful hue either sometime this year or the beginning of next.

Fred Uhlmann, vice president of the Chicago board of trade, said that while the outlook for crop prices during the coming year is not viewed as unusually favorable, "It is evident that wheat will not forever remain at the unproductive price levels now existing, but we shall see higher prices again sooner or later."

He said the American farmer, as well as the business man, would work out his problems and take corrective measures. Large decreases in world's acreage, he pointed out, will put a different complexion on the situation.

Oil Firms Dodge Fines Of Millions

Austin, Tex., Feb. 23 (AP)—Three major oil companies attacked in the anti-trust ouster suits of Attorney General James V. Allred barely escaped million dollar fines today when they filed answers to the suits within a few minutes of the deadline set by District Judge J. D. Moore.

The foreign corporations—the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, the Socony Vacuum corporation of New York, and the Standard Oil company of California—responded after Judge Moore had upheld the validity of writs of attachment obtained by the state on stock owned by the defendants' subsidiaries doing business in Texas.

Previously the corporations had refused to recognize the jurisdiction of the state court on the ground they are not Texas concerns.

The answers moved that the writs of garnishment and attachment against the stock involved be quashed. The motions were overruled.

Judge Moore had announced that unless answers were filed by 2 p. m. he would grant the attorney general's motion for default judgment. The suits ask maximum penalties of $1,074,000 against each of the defendants for alleged anti-trust law violations.

St. Joseph Opposes Norway Quint Here Tonight

VIKINGS BEAT ESKYMO SQUAD

Parochials Seek Victory To Make Season Successful One

St. Joseph high school basketeers, with three successive victories hung up, will face their toughest opposition of the season tonight when they oppose the high powered Norway Vikings at the Coliseum gymnasium. The game will start at 8:30 o'clock with the reserve teams of the two schools meeting in the preliminary at 7:30.

The Norway team is regarded as the outstanding Class C quintet in the peninsula by some critics and among other achievements this season has defeated five Class B schools, including the Eskymos of this city who Tuesday night grabbed off the Class B conference championship. Their victory over the Eskymos, 23 to 12, was the worst of three defeats that the Escanaba crew suffered this year.

Don't Fear Vikings

Coach Leo Brunelle figures that a victory over Norway would make the Parochial season a complete success and would avenge two defeats suffered at the hands of Escanaba high school this year. Although Brunelle admits the Vikings have an excellent record and is willing to grant them a wide margin on paper, he adds that his athletes have no fear of the Norway quintet and hope to upset the visitors.

In addition to other various good reasons for wishing to defeat Norway, the Parochials point out that a victory would put them on an even basis with Gladstone for seeding in the Class C district tournament if Gladstone should lose to Escanaba on Friday. Gladstone now has 13 points towards a seeded berth and St. Joseph has 11. Norway with more than 20 points is certain to be one of the seeded teams. If St. Joseph defeats Norway, they will add two more points to their total and give them 13, and if Escanaba wins from Gladstone Friday, Gladstone would not increase its present total of 13 points.

The Parochials will be without the services of Beaumier, reserve center, who is ill at his home. The starting St. Joseph lineup will probably be Clements, Harvey and McGovern, Sharkey and Brazeau.

The Norway lineup is expected to be Larson, Newkirk and Guzzanato, Gray and Ranguette.

Kelly of Manistique will handle the game.

Will Caswell of Austin, Texas, father-in-law of Wilmer Allison, plays a good game of tennis despite an accident in which his leg was almost severed.

Jack Dempsey Now Colonel In Kentucky

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 24. (AP)—In this corner, lade-e-e-s and gentlemen, Colonel Jack Dempsey.

The former heavyweight boxing champion, now essaying the comeback trail, was commissioned an aide of the staff of Governor Ruby Laffoon today.

Cheers of the crowd echoed through the capitol when Lieutenant Governor Albert B. Chandler, presiding over a joint session of the legislature which the Manassa Mauler addressed informally, said, "he'll be fighting for Kentucky from now on."

"I consider this a great honor," said Jack simply, smiling as he received the blue-ribboned, gold-sealed parchment from Governor Laffoon. "I hope I'll never do anything to lower the dignity of this office."

Lauds Dempsey.

The former champion drew a larger "gate" than turned out to hear four Democratic presidential prospects at previous joint sessions.

Lieutenant Governor Chandler introduced Dempsey as "perhaps the greatest fighter in the history of the American people, a two-fisted he-man, the champion of champions, who is a credit to the fighting game, clean and upstanding."

"Mr. president, the governor of Kentucky, ladies and gentlemen," began Jack, squaring his shoulders. "I hardly know what to say or how to say it. But I am reminded of an Irishman who attended a party where each one was called on to furnish entertainment. Well, Pat, when his turn came, said, 'I can't make a spaich, sing or dance, but I'll just be sociable and fight any one in the house'. That is all I can say."

The crowd demanded that "the gentleman from Anderson county" accept the challenge. So Grover C. Springate, husky auctioneer from Lawrenceburg, over six feet tall and "weighing in" at 268 pounds, stepped forward and shook hands with Dempsey. Tyler Munford, Morganfield newspaper editor, whose size would put him in the bantamweight class, was pushed forward by fellow legislators. Dempsey regretfully announced there appeared to be "no one in my class," remarking his weight was 195 pounds.

Seven Relay Events To Be Run Saturday

East Lansing, Mich., Feb. 24, (AP)—Seven relays will be run off here Saturday night at the 12th Annual State Intercollegiate Indoor Track Carnival, Ralph H. Young, director of athletics, announced today. Two of the relays will be open events with the remainder match competition.

Kalamazoo college, Western State Teachers, Detroit City, University of Detroit, and Michigan State will compete in the 440 yard open relay. Michigan State Normal, Detroit City, Western State, and Michigan State will be entered in the 2-mile open relay.

Match relays will be: 880 yard—Kalamazoo vs. University of Detroit, Michigan State Normal vs. Western State Teachers, and Detroit City vs. Michigan State.

Mile—Michigan State Normal vs. Michigan State, and Western State Teachers vs. Detroit City.

SPARTANS SEEK TO KEEP COACH

Ask Crowley to Delay Action on Iowa's Latest Bid

East Lansing, Mich., Feb. 24, (AP)—The future football pasture of James H. Crowley, Michigan State's gridiron mentor, remained in doubt tonight as Spartan authorities asked more time to consider the renewed bid of Iowa University for Crowley's services.

President Robert S. Shaw, informed by Crowley today of his offer from Iowa with a "substantial increase in salary," refused to comment on his reaction. He immediately recommended that Crowley delay his decision "at least for forty-eight hours."

The president said that "in all fairness to this institution we should have at least 48 hours in which to consider this matter."

Crowley's third offer from Iowa within recent weeks sent President Shaw into conference with athletic officials. The president indicated that he would not let the challenge from Iowa pass without some attempt to meet the emergency although he declined to disclose his plans.

As college officials were pondering over the renewed competition for Crowley's services, Iowa athletic heads pressed for an early decision. Dean Chester A. Phillips, of the Hawkeye athletic board, called Crowley by long distance from Ypsilanti three times today. The Spartan coach informed Dean Phillips that he is not yet ready to make a decision. He indicated he would abide by the wishes of President Shaw for delay in making his answer.

Crowley's serious consideration of the Iowa terms indicated that he will go to Iowa unless State is willing to increase his salary.

Dean Phillips did not visit the Michigan State campus but encamped at Ypsilanti where he communicated with Crowley by telephone.

Iowa's renewed bid for Crowley struck a note of irritation at Michigan State. Ralph H. Young, director of athletics, expressed surprise over the offer.

"I am surprised that the University of Iowa would offer Crowley the assignment when he twice has refused to take the job. Crowley has repeatedly told me of his satisfaction with his Michigan State coaching assignment."

Athletic followers today recalled that three years ago Harry Kipke vacated his post suddenly to accept his Michigan berth. Since that time Crowley has put out winning teams for State. His departure probably would mean that Glenn Carberry and Miles Casteel, assistant coaches, would accompany him.

Rapid Replaces Stephenson On Basket Schedule

Gladstone, Feb. 24 (Special)—Rapid River will replace Stephenson on the 1932-33 basketball schedule, according to an announcement made yesterday by C. C. Strickland, principal of the high school. Demand of basketball fans for games between Rapid River and Gladstone induced school officials to make the change.

The tentative schedule calls for eleven games, the same number scheduled this year. The first two games will be played at home and during the remainder of the season the games at home will be alternated with those away. Six home games are to be played.

The Schedule

Dec. 2—Rock here.
Dec. 9—Marquette here.
Dec. 16—St. Joseph there.
Jan. 6—Escanaba here.
Jan. 13—Vulcan there.
Jan. 20—Ishpeming here.
Jan. 27—Rapid River there.
Feb. 3—St. Joseph here.
Feb. 10—Manistique there.
Feb. 17—Gwinn here.
Feb. 24—Escanaba there.

Pictured above are Escanaba high school basketball players who won the Class B conference championship Tuesday evening by defeating Iron Mountain, 25 to 23, after a hard battle. The Eskymos won six conference games in eight starts to cop the title while Iron Mountain was in second place with five conference victories and two defeats. Including conference and non-conference games, the Eskymos won 10 games out of 13 to date. Their last scheduled game is on Friday at Gladstone.

The champions are coached by Carl Nordberg, former Michigan State athlete, who is in his first year as athletic director of the local high school.

With one championship already tucked away, the Eskymos are now looking to the district tournament to be played here next week with the hope of annexing this title to their belts. If they can get by the preliminary rounds, they will be candidates for the upper peninsula Class B championship to be contested at Ishpeming in two weeks.

Campbell Breaks Auto Speed Record But Will Try to Boost It Higher

BY TED GILL

Daytona Beach, Fla., Feb. 24. (AP)—Sir Malcolm Campbell of England, today wrote another thrilling chapter to his years of racing history by hanging up a new world's automobile speed record of 253.968 miles an hour over a mile route.

The 47-year-old driver who has been blazing new speed marks down the "roaring road" for a quarter of a century, drove this 12 cylinder bluebird car twice over the ocean course to surpass by 8.235 miles an hour his former record of 245.733 established in the same car here last year.

On his first run, made southward over the beach, Sir Malcolm attained the speed of 267.45 miles an hour. Upon reaching the south end of the course, he immediately turned his bullet-nosed machine around and shot back northward over the beach at a speed of 241.773.

Not Yet Satisfied.

He covered the mile on his first run in 13.46 seconds and flashed across that distance on his second trial in 14.89 seconds for an average time of 14.17 seconds for both runs.

His speed was calculated by averaging the time for both trials and dividing the quotient into 3,600 or the number of seconds in one hour.

In establishing a new record over the mile, Campbell clipped .47 of a second off his old record.

Sir Malcolm said he was not satisfied with his new record and that if beach conditions are suitable, he probably will make an attempt tomorrow to boost it even higher. He hopes to be able to make a record of 260 or 265 miles an hour.

"I am not at all pleased with the record," he said, as he climbed out of the car to receive an ovation from thousands of spectators.

"I should have driven much faster but the wind on my second run north slowed me up considerably. It felt as though it was blowing at least 40 miles an hour and my car was held back by such a headwind.

"I am going to check over my car and if I find it is in good condition, and the beach still is good tomorrow, I shall try for a faster record then.

Calm After Runs.

"During both of my runs, I had to steer the car with all my might because of the wind. Toward the south end of the course, I had to run through water left by the receding tide, and it looked like a lake as I approached and dashed through it."

On his first run, Campbell found his oil tank had been filled too full, and when the car attained a high speed, the oil splashed over his windshield.

"It was not serious," he said. "And so I decided to make my second run immediately."

Except for splotches of oil on the car, the machine showed no evidence of having been damaged. The two rear tires were slightly cut in several places, apparently from tiny shells buried in the sand, but the front tires did not appear to be worn.

Campbell was exceedingly calm after his record achievement, and stretched out his arm at full length to show newspapermen there was no quiver in it.

BOWLING NOTES

AT THE ARCADE

The North Side, Perrin Barbers and C. & N. W. store department each won two out of three games from the City Bottling Works, Delta News and C. & N. W. Office at the Arcade alleys Tuesday night. The best totals were amassed in the C. & N. W. office-store game, the latter collecting 2,455 pins and the office 2,307. The North Siders hit 2,353 in their win over the Bottlers. E. Finn of the railway office had a game of 207, the only one of the series over the double century mark.

Willie MacFarlane Wins Open Tourney

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 24. (AP)—Willie MacFarlane, the veteran Scot from Tuckahoe, N. Y., won the 54-hole St. Petersburg open golf tournament today with a score of 209. He nosed out Dave Hackney of Lowell, Mass., by one stroke, and received $500 top prize. Hackney got $300.

Craig Wood of Deal, N. J., slipped into third place to win $200, with 211 strokes.

MacFarlane's card for the three 18 hole rounds showed 72-68-69—209. His 69 pulled him ahead of Hackney, who slipped to 72 after setting a course record in the forenoon with 34-32—66.

MacFarlane's purse brought his winnings for one week to $1,175. He was runner up in the Gasparilla open at Tampa ending Sunday and received $625. He was co-medalist at Tampa and got $50.

A basketball game at Noel, Mo., between the "Fats" and "Leans" was won by the "Fats," 12 to 6.

Gladstone Tournament Drawings To Be Made On Saturday Morning

Gladstone, Feb. 24 (Special)—Representatives of the schools to be entered in the district basketball tournament to be held in Gladstone March 2-3-4, will meet in Gladstone Saturday morning at 11 o'clock for the purpose of drawing for places in the tourney schedule. The two schools having the highest standings on a point basis for the season will not draw for places but will be assigned to the upper and lower bracket automatically. The drawing is to be held in the office of Principal C. C. Strickland.

Teams to compete in the tourney here are: St. Joseph's of Escanaba, Norway, Vulcan, Rock, Stephenson and Gladstone. Norway has had the best record this year and will be given the top position, while Gladstone will undoubtedly be assigned to the lower bracket.

In Ball Camps

WHITE SOX LEAVE

Chicago, Feb. 24 (AP)—Chicago's White Sox, led by Owner Lou Comiskey and Manager Lew Fonseca, departed for their spring training fields in Texas today.

Thirteen players and two new coaches were in the party, which will stop over at Mineral Wells, Texas, for a week before proceeding to the regular spring training camp at San Antonio.

RAPID STRIDES

Paso Robles, Cal., Feb. 24 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates are making such rapid strides in their spring training that the first camp ball game will be played Tuesday.

Larry French, who has come to terms with the club, had a zippy workout on the mound today.

WYATT'S ARM O. K.

Richardson Springs, Cal., Feb. 24 (AP)—Whitlow Wyatt, Detroit Tiger pitcher who was sent to Beaumont of the Texas League last season because of a sore arm, indulged in a session of speed ball pitching today and reported the last trace of soreness had disappeared. He expects to be back with the Tigers this year.

Manager Bucky Harris was notified today that Sanford University's sunken diamond would be available for his squad when it assembles at Palo Alto next week for full-time spring training. Negotiations for the university diamond were opened when the municipal field was found to be too rough.

FITZ NOT SIGNED

Los Angeles, Feb. 24 (AP)—John J. McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, conferred today with Fred Fitzsimmons, pitcher who has not yet signed his 1932 contract, and Ed Moore, Pacific Coast League infielder, who has withheld his signature.

Moore participated in today's practice session and Fitzsimmons will be in uniform tomorrow.

VANCE SIGNS UP

Clearwater, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—Dazzy Vance, veteran right hand speedball pitcher, today signed a contract to pitch for the Brooklyn Robins in 1932. Vance, who had been a holdout, was believed to have signed for $15,000, compared to $23,000 he received last season.

GROOMS ROOKIES

Biloxi, Miss., Feb. 24 (AP)—Manager Walter Johnson is grooming his young pitchers with an eye to developing one good enough to fill the gap when a regular on the Washington Senators' mound staff is out. Johnson said two or three were shaping up nicely.

The fifteen pitchers and catchers were put through drill today usually reserved for the end of the first training week.

ECKERT LOOKS GOOD

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—Special attention is being given Al Eckert, young southpaw recalled from Columbus, in the Cincinnati Reds training camp here. Manager Dan Howley is eager to get some southpaw strength this year. The 41 year old Ezra Rixey and Biff Wysong, a wild youngster, are the only portsiders.

"RUBBER ARM"

Bradenton, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—Manager Gabby Street of the Cardinals is keeping a close eye on Raymond Francis Starr, newcomer from Rochester who won 20 games and lost seven in the International league last season. Starr has what is known as a "rubber arm"—never out of shape, which is an asset in addition to his record.

RUFFING REPORTS

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—Charley Ruffing, pitcher, and Allen "Dusty" Cooke, outfielder, joined the New York Yankees squad today, making a total of 16 players in camp.

Cooke, who is recovering from an operation on his shoulder, at first base for a while but made no serious efforts at throwing. He will continue to take massage treatments for his shoulder and thinks he will be able to throw fairly well before the camp breaks up.

INDIANS BEGIN.

New Orleans, Feb. 24. (AP)—The Cleveland Indians opened their baseball training season here today as 16 pitchers and three catchers started toughening their muscles under a bright sun.

It was a light workout as Manager Roger Peckinpaugh and his coaches, among them Steve O'Neill, regular Tribe catcher for years, kept guard to prevent sore arms. O'Neill, manager of the Toronto International league team last year, is among the unemployed and is merely a guest coach with the Indians.

Only Eddie Morgan, first baseman, has not signed his contract

Lott and Rainville Are Easy Winners

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 24, (AP)—George Lott, Chicago, and Marcel Rainville, Toronto, Ont., overwhelmed the driving challenge of Joe Whalen and Hudson Hamm, Miami youths, today, to advance to men's doubles semi-finals of the Pan-American tennis tournament. Lott and Rainville won their match 6-4, 6-1.

Alvin Sieve, Cincinnati, and Earl Busong, Cincinnati, defeated Willard McGinnis, Tampa, and Ray White, Miami, 6-2, 6-2, to move up to the doubles semi-finals.

Third round singles matches saw Lott defeat Robert McMillen, Neenah, Wis., 6-4, 6-2, to go into the quarter finals.

KEILMEN SET FOR ESCANABA

Hard Battle Certain When Old Rivals Meet Friday Night

Gladstone, Feb. 24 (Special)—The Gladstone high school basketball team is primed to a high pitch for the game against Escanaba Friday night, and if their scrimmages are a criterion of what to expect, the boys from down the bay are going to have a real job on their hands to earn a victory. Last night, against the Marble Arms independent team, the Gladstone boys were going great and their defense was working better than at any time this season. Their offensive play was also decidedly improved over last week, when Gwinn eked out a victory on their home floor.

It is of record that regardless of the season, when Escanaba and Gladstone meet, there is a battle. Last year, each team won on their home floors by margins of two points, the game at Escanaba going into three over-time periods before a long shot gave them a victory.

In the first meeting this year, the game was anybody's until the final whistle and Escanaba barely pulled the game out of the fire in the last few minutes of play by two shots from near the center of the floor.

The loss of Murphy has been a serious handicap to the team in getting set for this game, but Coach Keil expressed the belief yesterday that his team would give a good account of themselves. They are handling the ball nicely, he said, and if they have an "on" night, there is every reason to believe that they will make the Class "B" champs go their best to win.

Coach Keil indicated that he was going to give the team their "heads" in this game and release the restraint that has limited their tries for baskets to within the free-throw zone during the entire season. The team has been working out on long shots during the entire week and have been looping them in consistently.

The starting line-up has not been definitely decided, but it is likely that Carter, center; Kircher and Damitz, forwards, and Potvin and Jahnke will take the floor at the opening whistle. Froberg, who showed up well in several games, may get a chance at the forward position during the game.

Mrs. Wrigley to Be A Director of Cubs

Chicago, Feb. 24. (AP)—Mrs. William Wrigley, widow of the late owner of the Chicago Cubs, today was elected a director of the baseball club and a member of the executive committee.

In addition to Mrs. Wrigley, the executive committee now includes President William L. Veeck, A. D. Lasker, W. M. Walker and Philip K. Wrigley, who inherited controlling ownership of the club from his father.

Joe Benis, veteran quarterback at Ohio State, who lost his regular job last fall to Carl Cramer, sophomore, defeated Cramer in an intramural boxing tourney.

A boxing match at Duke university drew 4,000 spectators.

RECORD CROWD CHEERS TEAMS

Escanaba Quintet Fights Valiantly Against Collegians

The strong Michigan Tech hockey team ran into unexpected opposition against the Escanaba Rangers at St. Patrick's rink last evening and barely managed to squeeze out a 4 to 2 victory in a battle that was undoubtedly the hottest thing ever sen here in the way of skating activities. A crowd estimated at 1500 people was treated to a great exhibition and constantly voiced its approval of the game with lusty yells.

Injuries to Miller and Pataja, strongest offensive threats of the Rangers, seriously hampered the Escanaba crew in the final periods and there are fans who contend that if the Escanaba stars had not been injured, the result may have been different.

Individually, the work of "Peggy" O'Neill, Escanaba goalie, was the outstanding feature of the scrap. O'Neill who joined the Ranger squad last week was in a tough spot all evening as the Michigan Tech players banged the puck at his feet time and time again but he made the stops miraculously. Most of the Houghton scores resulted after scrambles around the net.

The Rangers scored first in the first period when Miller shot the puck into the net but soon after Michigan Tech evened the score. Pataja scored again for the Rangers in the first frame putting the Escanaba team into the lead before the period ended.

The Rangers clung to their lead valiantly through most of the second frame but the Houghton skaters evened the count shortly before the frame ended.

Michigan Tech pounded the puck into the net twice in the third period to gain an advantage which they held until the final gun.

Miller was hurt in the first period. He suffered a dislocated shoulder and had to leave the game. After receiving medical attention he went back into the lineup in the third period. Pataja was lost to the Escanaba crew in the final period when he was knocked unconscious to the ice.

Skellenger of Gladstone officiated the game.

The crowd was treated to a spectacular show and that the fans were highly pleased with the game was apparent. They howled and hooted, cheered and booed, as the puck sailed up and down the ice with lightning rapidity. The game was exceptionally fast and more than a little rough.

Next Sunday afternoon the Rangers will play Ishpeming here.

"SEZ ME"

by Ken Gunderman

The Eskymos have won a basketball championship. That's one for Ripley. Basketball championships for Escanaba high school teams have been as scarce as hen's teeth. Perhaps the spell has been broken and the Escanaba high school will take its place as a leader in the peninsula basketball firmament.

By virtue of their 25 to 23 victory over Iron Mountain Teusday, the Eskymos copped the Class B conference title by a half game margin over the Mountaineers. The title is by no means an empty one as some people are prone to believe. The championship means that Nordberg's boys have finished ahead of such teams as Iron Mountain, Soo, Ishpeming, Marquette, and Negaunee, all great prep teams, in addition to Menominee, Manistique and Kingsford.

The Eskymos' conference schedule has been a tough one, too, so no one can rob them of any glory by saying that they had "easy pickings". Escanaba played every team in the conference except Kingsford, a weak sister. Out of 13 games played by Escanaba this season, ten of them resulted in victories. Just imagine it! An Escanaba high school basketball team winning ten games in one season. It's almost beyond belief but it's true. And they're not through yet.

When the hundreds of fans poured out of the junior high school gymnasium after the Escanaba-Iron Mountain game Tuesday, the almost unanimous comment was "What a game! Sure glad I didn't miss that." The gymnasium was packed to the doors and before the feature game had started ushers were using shoe horns to find room for the fans.

WILL NOT USE ST. PAUL DOCK

Milwaukee Road To Ship Ore From North Western Docks

Shipments of iron ore coming over the Milwaukee road into this port during the 1932 season will be handled by the Chicago & North Western railway's docks, it was announced yesterday by officials here following the signing of a contract between the two railways.

It was explained that the Milwaukee road's decision not to use its own dock for the coming season was made in the interests of economy. It is likely, however, that the Milwaukee road will carry on an extensive program of repairs to its dock here next summer.

During the 1931 season, ore shipments fell off more than fifty percent from the 1930 volume. Shipments from the North Western docks totaled 1,108,964 tons as compared to 2,923,131 during the 1930 season, while the Milwaukee road's business dropped to 499,080 tons from 1,173,682. Railway officials expect that shipments during the 1932 season will be approximately the same.

The Milwaukee road will continue to haul ore with its trains over the E. & L. S. railway tracks, however. The diversion of its traffic to the North Western railway will be limited to the use of the latter campany's dock facilities.

Considerable improvements are being made to the C. & N. W. docks this winter. About $70,000 has been expended in materials alone, while a crew ranging from 40 to 80 men has been employed.

Rivard Bound Over For Circuit Court

Waving examination when arraigned before Justice H. E. Ranguette, Clement Rivard, 1408 Lake Shore Drive, was bound over to circuit court on a liquor law violation charge Wednesday, and gave bond of $500 for his appearance.

Rivard was arrested by Escanaba police, who reported finding about a gallon of moonshine when they visited his home.

Three solvent banks in the town of LaPlante, Mo., merged voluntarily, resulting in an increase in total deposits.

Influenza Epidemic Hits Rapid School

Rapid River, Feb. 24, (Special)—The influenza epidemic has cut into the school attendance this week. On Monday 31 out of an enrollment of 126 in high school were out and today the number had increased to 45. The attendance in the lower grades has also fallen off on account of sickness.

Legion Seeks Help

Rapid River, Feb. 24, (Special)—There is a rumor going about the village that the local American Legion relief drive against unemployment is for the benefit of Legionnaires only. Such is not the case. The efforts of the relief committee are intended for all persons who are out of work.

This evening the members of Walter W. Cole Post, the Ladies Auxiliary, and local business men, met at the township hall for a general discussion of the unemployment situation in this community, and also to devise plans for relief.

Personals

Lloyd Belland and Wesley Grashe, students at the College of Mines, at Houghton, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Belland. They returned to Houghton Monday morning accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Belland, Misses Margaret Gravelle and Elizabeth Miller. On the return trip Miss Miller stopped off at Marquette to resume her studies at the Teachers' College.

Several members of the Royal Neighbors motored to Gladstone Tuesday to attend a meeting of the lodge at the home of Mrs. O. C. D'Amour.

Jimmie Gets Even With Sports Scribe

James H. Crowley, football coach at Michigan State College, does not confine his sense of humor to his famous smile, his witticisms and his puns. Sometimes there are practical jokes that are even more disastrous than his old football feats—that is, to the victims.

Jim had no hesitancy some time ago in calling one Lansing sports writer out of bed at 4 a. m. after the coach had returned from a speaking engagement in the orthern part of the state. The sports writer sleepily stumbled out of the shucks and answered the telephone.

"I thought you might be interested in knowing we have decided NOT to call off spring practice this year," said Jimmy, thus getting back at one of the boys who worried him with questions at all hours during the football season.

GARDEN NEWS

Garden.—Services at St. John the Baptist church in Garden are as follows:

Friday, February 26th—7:30 p. m. Stations of the cross followed by benediction of the blessed sacrament. Sunday, February 28th—10:30 a. m. High Mass. 2:30 p. m. Baptisms. 7:30 p. m. Stations of the cross followed by besediction of the blessed sacrament. Rev. Fr. V. C. Savageau.

William Hynes motored to Manistique Monday and brought back his mother, who had been visiting at the home of her son, Mike and wife, for three weeks. Mrs. Mike Hynes is able to be up now after being confined to her bed with a serious heart ailment.

Mrs. Lily Armstrong, of Escanaba, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. Prokop, being called here by the serious sickness of her father, William Kauthen.

Mrs. Joseph Hynes and son, William, motored to Cooks Sunday and visited at the home of the former's daughter, Mrs. Oscar Lund.

No services were conducted in the Fayette Congregational church last Sunday on account of the presence of so much sickness in the district. No serious cases are reported.

James Tatrow is moving his family out of the Prokop residence next to the Prokop store, and will occupy the Asa Tatrow home in town.

Word has been received that Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Watchorn of Negaunee, formerly of Fayette, are the parents of an eight-pound daughter, born February 8.

Special Washington Day exercises were held in the local grade schools Monday afternoon. Cecily Heafield and Kenneth Ralph were awarded prizes for success in cutting down the cherry tree, in the advanced rooms.

Anton Lecksan accompanied Stanley Czajkowski on the school bus this week. The latter is suffering with an infected wrist.

Local fishermen, as well as merchants, are busy this week putting up their season's supply of ice. This is of unusually good quality, upwards of twelve inches thick.

The condition of Wm. Kauthen, aged Garden resident, who has been very sick during the past week, is somewhat improved.

Manual Training Class Gets Paid

Newaygo, Mich., (AP) — Pay checks instead of grade marks are to be given to students in the manual training department of Newaygo high school.

The department was incorporated recently as the Hilltop Bookcase company, with a board of directors, to manufacture oak bookcases for the various rooms in the school.

Each pupil in the classes will start at an average wage, which will be altered according to his ability. Pay checks will be distributed at the end of the production period.

The work will be done in regular class periods and will not interfere with other studies.

Mill to Open.

Menominee—J. W. Wells Lumber company's new hardwood flooring factory was abustle with activity today as workmen rushed installation of machinery which will start turning late this week.

A. C. Wells, president of the company, yesterday announced intention to start the new factory before the end of the week.

A stock of hardwood lumber has been dried in the new plant's battery of dry kilns and awaits manufacture into the company's widely known Diamond Hard brand of maple flooring.

Wescoat Planning Isle Royale Air Service in Summer

C. H. WESCOAT.

Houghton, Mich.—The first air line in upper Michigan, The Royale Line, which will operate between the Copper Country and Isle Royale, is assured for the coming summer, according to an announcement yesterday by C. Harold Wescoat, manager, who has devoted practically all of his time for the last year to the establishment of a fast, reliable service to Isle Royale.

The service will be inaugurated on or before June 1 of this year and will continue into the fall as long as there is any demand for transportation to Isle Royale. B. A. Wenberg, pioneer flyer of the Copper Country, will be flight manager in charge of operations.

A Sikorsky Amphibian, Model S-28, known to be the safest and best amphibian airplane ever built, will be used in the service. The ship is a ten place job which will carry eight passengers, and two pilots. It is propelled by two Pratt and Whitney Wasp motors, will fly safely with a full load on either motor and can land on water or land.

The cabin of the plane is elaborately appointed for the comfort of passengers. It is finished in mahogany and is equipped with wicker chairs, life belts, life preservers and many other features for the comfort and safety of passengers. The wing span is 90 feet and the boat or fusilage is approximately 45 feet from bow to stern.

According to present plans of The Royale Line, passengers will be transported between the Portage Lake district or any of the beautiful harbors on the Keweenaw Peninsula to Isle Royale in an average time of 35 minutes. The flexibility of the service is evident from the fact that three round trips a day can be made from Portage Lake, stopping at Eagle Harbor, Copper Harbor and the four resort hotels on the island. The trip also will include circling of the island.

They'll Miss That Old Police Gazette

By MARK BARRON

New York—The collapse of that rococo, pink-hued publication, "The Police Gazette," recalls a story told by Charles Siringo. He was (he may be dead now, as I haven't heard of him in several years) one of the old trail drivers who ran cattle into Abilene, where the railroad ended.

Later Siringo drifted down to the Mexican border, where he was a friend of Billy the Kid, "Big Foot" Wallace, Bill Tilghman (who later became chief of police of Oklahoma City) and other famous gun fighters of that lawless region.

Siringo was working on a ranch in the Big Bend country, and when the punchers came into the bunk house at night they often found it necessary to extract sand fleas from their clothes.

There was a bunk house law that any man who threw a sand flea on the floor and didn't step on it would be fined a dime. After a few weeks there was about $5 in the "pot," and a meeting was held to decide where it should go.

Siringo suggested that something be bought that would entertain all the boys, so they decided to subscribe to a magazine.

"Three of the boys couldn't read, however," Siringo explained, "and we subscribed to the 'Police Gazette' so they could look at the pictures."

State Has Supply of Natural Gas

Mt. Pleasant, Mich., (AP)—Department of conservation records show there is enough natural gas in Michigan to supply the daily domestic needs of 937,000 families, or approximately 2,811,100 persons.

The survey reveals a daily capacity of gas wells in this state of 75,000,000 cubic feet. With production limited by state law to 25 per cent of capacity, only 18,000,000 cubic feet of gas may be piped from the wells.

The Cascade range running through Washington and Oregon from the Canadian border to California has 16 major snow or glacier-clad peaks.

It is estimated that a beech tree consumes about 80 quarts of water a day.

CURTIS NEWS

Curtis.—Mrs. Henry Waterbury, who has been confined in the Perry-Spinks-Swanson hospital in Newberry for several days suffering from a nervous breakdown, was removed to her home in Curtis Saturday, much improved.

Ice cutting has begun on White fish Lake. Charles Long is cutting and putting up ice for Fenley and Archey's.

The Curtis town team went to McMillan Tuesday night to play basketball, but the McMillan team had gone to Newberry to play the state hospital team. The Curtis boys followed them there and played them after their game with Newberry, but were severely beaten.

Miss Vera Negrinelli spent the week-end with her parents in Gwinn, returning here Monday morning.

The gravel haul on 135 is practically done for this winter. Many trucks were kept busy for several weeks.

The Barretts of Newberry are taking out some logs from the woods near Curtis and trucking them to Newberry.

The girls of Curtis have organized two basketball teams, a town team and a school team. Mrs. C. Walsh is coach for both teams. Gertrude Long was chosen captain for the school team and Miss Negrinelli, teacher of the intermediate room was chosen captain of the town team. They practice in the town hall which has been fitted up for basketball.

Word has been received from Mrs. Delmar Humphrey, that her husband, who has been confined in a hospital in Ann Arbor since Nov. 22, is much improved and has been moved to the home of his mother, in Hillsdale. It is not known yet at this time if another operation will be necessary. If not he expects to be home in Curtis in a couple of weeks.

The Curtis school bell was tolled 200 times Monday to commemorate Washington's birthday.

The Calico club met last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. H. Emery. The occasion was a triple shower for Mrs. Harry Strom, a "miscellaneous" shower, a "recipe" shower and an "advice to the bride" shower. Mrs. Strom received many nice and useful gifts. The "advice" she was required to read after the delicious pot-luck dinner had been served cafeteria style. Those present were: Mrs. Harry Strom, Mrs. Alma Strom, Mrs. Fred Ingleston, Mrs. Alice Davis, Mrs. David Hearn, Mrs. Mary Gowan, Mrs. E. L. Detmer, Mrs. Jas. Ostrander, Mrs. Hope Hinds, Eva Campbell, Mrs. Jas. Painter, Elfie Painter, Mrs. Chas. Arndt, Mrs. Wm. Sherbrook, Mrs. Wm. Eccleston, Mrs. C. Walsh and little daughter, Mary, Mrs. Glenn Morrison, Mrs. Emery, Mrs. Starkey and Mrs. Edd Dillar. The ladies felt that honorable mention should be made of the three men, Jas. Ostrander, Edd Dillar and Mr. Emery, who braved the worst storm of the season and almost impassable roads to deliver the ladies to their meeting and get them again and return them to their homes.

Mrs. Mary Gowan has been making some improvements on her cottage during the last few days. Jas. Painter was employed to do the carpenter work.

The Curtis basketball boys played against the Lakefield team in the town hall in Curtis, Saturday night. Curtis won with a score of 16 to 4.

Be Careful When Buying Seed, Says Delta Farm Agent

"This is the time of year when many companies are advertising seeds way below the market price," says county farm agent J. E. Turner. "Most of these are cheap seeds and will give cheap results. Without good seed, of course, it is impossible to secure a good crop, so every farmer should inquire carefully into the seed he is buying."

Along with his warning, the county agent suggests that farmers ask the following questions before they buy seed:

1. What is the germination, that is, will it grow when planted?

2. Is it the right variety for my soil, and for our climate in Delta county?

3. Does it contain weed seeds that will infest my farm?

"You can secure seed that will meet all these requirements by buying your seed in Michigan of reliable seed companies," says the county agent. "The reason you should buy seed that is offered for sale in Michigan is that the Michigan Seed Law requires that all seed exposed for sale in the state must have a tag attached to the bag guaranteeing that the seed contained shall germinate the percentage stated, and must show the percentage of purity, and must name any noxious weeds if they are present."

GROWS POTATOES TO GIVE AWAY

Escanaba has been fortunate this winter in being able to supply two staple articles, wood and potatoes, to needy families and those temporarily handicapped because of unemployment. A purchase of four forties of woodlot at $120 from a public-spirited Escanaba citizen afforded a place for the unemployed to go and cut their own wood, which has been hauled to their homes without charge with city trucks. Other generous business men offered potatoes, and these are being kept in the basement of the police station, where they are given out regularly to those who need them. Boys come with sleds and sacks, and hundreds have taken advantage of the city's supply. One man who has donated heavily to the city's potato bin grew 1200 bushels and has given most of them away. He has less than 200 bushels left, and will probably give them away, too.

RED AND BLACK OUT OF STLYE MARCH 1

In three or four more days black and red will go out of style for Michigan automobile license plates, to be supplanted by blue and white, the reigning color scheme for 1932. Motorists who took advantage of the time extension on 1931 plates are finding it just as hard to scrape up the money for a license on March 1 as it would have been Jan. 1, but officers assume that those who can afford to have an automobile and maintain it can also afford to get a license, and they are prepared to check up on those old tags beginning Tuesday.

Inspection of registration records reveals that many Delta county automobile owners have definite preferences for certain combinations of numbers when it comes to purchasing their new licenses. For superstitious reasons or otherwise, sevens are always popular, and other drivers like to have their serial number end in zeros or digits repeated. Combinations that make good cribbage, poker or pedro hands find favor also, and they tell of two confirmed card sharks who sat at the curb and played a game, taking their hands alternately from the license numbers on the cars that drove by.

CAREFUL DRIVER

Young V. A., little son of Mr and Mrs. Victor A. Berglund, of Newberry, is going to grow up to observe the traffic rules if his driving of his police dog means anything. The dog has been trained to the sleigh just this winter and is already doing excellent work. The other day V. A. was driving him down the sidewalk on Newberry avenue and when they came to the intersection of McMillan Avenue the lad ordered "Whoa!" The dog stopped instantly.

"What's the idea?" Mother wanted to know.

"Can't you see the "stop" sign," asked V. A.

By the way, the dog's name is "Vanilla," the reason for which is not known.

St. Francis Hospital

The condition of Mrs. Phil Dupont is slightly improved.

Mrs. Walter Young of Gladstone, R. 1, who was admitted recently, is slightly improved.

Miss Sophie Perow, 401 South Ninth street, who is a surgical patient, is resting easily.

J. A. Frenn, Jr., 1825 Third avenue north, submitted to an operation for hernia.

Mrs. Arvid Pada of Gladstone, whose leg was fractured in a fall, was removed to her home after the fracture had been set Monday morning.
